KING GEORGE IS LOSING STRENGTH

BRITAIN WARNS ITALY ON RED CROSS BOMBING

Blunt Diplomatic Hint Given to Mussolini to Have Fliers Avoid Hitting Unit From United Kingdom Now at Dessye, Ethiopia; Italians Informed of Exact Location of Hospital.

By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer.
London, Jan. 20.—Great Britain has given a diplomatically blunt hint to Premier Mussolini that there is to be no bombing of British Red Cross units in Ethiopia, it was learned to-day.

Maurice Ingram, British Charge d'Affaires at Rome, called on Fulvio Suvich, Italian Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, and politely drew his attention to the exact location of the British Red Cross unit which reached Dessye last week.

PLAN FAVORED BY DISTRICTS

Returns on Union Library Votes Show Most Communities in Accord

While votes from some of the larger areas are still to be recorded, returns received by the Provincial Secretary's department to-day showed that a majority of the school districts on Vancouver Island, in Okanagan and West Kootenay have gone on record in favor of union library schemes.

The votes have yet to be analyzed, however, to determine if sufficient districts to represent a population of 24,000 in each area are favorable.

Returns from forty out of the forty-six communities on Vancouver Island have been made. They show thirty-three districts in favor and seven against. Latest reports are: Sylvania, for 12, against 17; Beaver Creek, for 17, against 5.

Out of forty-five districts voting in West Kootenay, thirty-two have reported, showing twenty-eight in favor and four against.

In the Okanagan sixty-two districts are voting. Out of forty-four that have sent in returns only two are opposed.

ITALIANS INVITE BOMBING INQUIRY

Canadian Press from Havas Geneva, Jan. 20.—Impartial investigation of recent bombings of Red Cross units in Ethiopia by Italian planes will be acceptable to Italy, Premier Mussolini to-day informed the International Red Cross.

Bombing of the Swedish Red Cross unit at Dolo on the southern front has already led to an interchange of notes between the governments of Sweden and Italy, while Emperor Haile Selassie and the International Red Cross have forwarded protests to the League of Nations.

League Turns Down Ethiopian Requests

Committee of Thirteen Decides Sending of Commission to Front and Financial Aid Are Outside Powers

Associated Press Geneva, Jan. 20.—The League of Nations Committee of Thirteen decided to-day the question of sending a commission of inquiry to Ethiopia and financial assistance for the nation were not opportune and were, furthermore, outside the competence of the committee.

Both questions had been raised by Emperor Haile Selassie. He had asked for a commission to determine whether Italy or Ethiopia was really responsible for the present war in East Africa. He also had asked for material aid in the shape of financial support.

The committee members voted to draft a report to the Council setting forth their decision.

It was also indicated that, while the committee was ready to exercise its good offices for conciliation, no other proposals were before it for the present.

The committee decided sanctions were entirely a matter for the Committee of Eighteen, appointed for that particular purpose.

British Foreign Secretary At Geneva Session To-day

Oak Bay, Saanich Reeves Unopposed

William Crouch Returned For Tenth Term in Saanich; R. R. Taylor Succeeds R. W. Mayhew; Last-minute Entries Create Election in Oak Bay; Keen Contest in Esquimalt

Election by acclamation of Reeve William Crouch and several Saanich councillors, and R. R. Taylor as reeve of Oak Bay, featured the closing of nominations to-day. The elections will take place on Saturday.

Esquimalt will witness the keenest election contest it has held for years. For the first time Alexander Lockley and James Erick will meet in a straight battle for the reeve-ship. Both have been reeves of the municipality several times but neither has had the other's opposition before.

Every post in Esquimalt will be contested, the council field being one of the largest in the municipality's history.

Blizzards Sweep Atlantic Coast

Toll of Dead in Storms and Accidents Reaches 161 As Winter Weather Blankets Large Section of United States

Associated Press Chicago, Jan. 20.—Tornadoes swept three southeastern states while blizzards lashed the northern tier of states from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic coast as the United States to-day counted at least 161 dead, including fifty-eight in traffic accidents.

The majority of the reported automobile fatalities were chargeable to slippery streets and obscured vision of drivers.

Snow, ice and sleet blanketed most of the upper half of the nation and the weather forecast calls for more snow and colder weather. In many sections the week-end storm was moving for the session starting February 25.

TROOPS SENT TO STRIKE AREA

Associated Press New Albany, Ind., Jan. 20.—A clash between striking shirt makers and non-union workers to-day at the factory of M. Fine and Sons resulted in the declaration of martial law in two southern Indiana counties by Governor Paul C. McNutt.

The first evidence of the approaching session of the Legislature appeared this morning when Sergeant-at-Arms E. O. Weston started work on the preparations for the opening. Mr. Speaker E. G. Perry is expected here this week. They will organize the sessional staff and get things moving for the session starting February 25.

THIRD MOVIE IS ANNOUNCED

Central Films Will Begin "Secret Patrol" With Starret and Barton, Next Week

Work on a third picture will be started by Central Films Limited on Monday, January 27, according to a telegram received from Kenneth J. Bishop, producer, who is at present in Hollywood.

"Secret Patrol" is the title of the picture, a Royal Canadian Mounted Police story, to be produced here for Columbia Pictures Incorporated.

Charlie Starret and Fionnla Barton are announced by Mr. Bishop as the leading players. The picture will be directed by Ford Reeve.

It is understood that a lumber camp at some point up the island will be used by Central Films as the principal location. The Willows Industrial Building studio will be employed for interior scenes.

A fourth picture, a western story, will be started as soon as "Secret Patrol" is completed.

Central Films has already produced two pictures here, "Stop, Look and Love" and "Toughest Princess." The company has plans for a schedule of work averaging about six films per year.

STOCKS FALL AT LONDON

Associated Press London, Jan. 20.—The London Stock Exchange was subdued to-day, as a result of the King's serious illness. Gilt-edged securities were marked down a fraction. Speculative issues dropped for lack of support. A few selling orders accentuated early dullness. Most sections closed lower with the exception of Argentine rails, which advanced 1½ points.

DISCUSS PLAN FOR JUBILEE

Celebration to Mark Victoria's Seventy-fifth Birthday in 1937

Plans for a big celebration of Victoria's diamond jubilee next year were discussed by Acting Mayor P. R. Brown and Alderman Walter Loney at the City Hall to-day.

On August 2, 1937, the city will have achieved its seventy-fifth year since incorporation. Taking the lead from Vancouver's ambitious golden jubilee plan the city might institute a fête period for two weeks or more, using as the centre of attraction the annual fair which would have to be advanced considerably if it took in the jubilee period.

Special attractions would be brought to the city to heighten the festivities and other functions, such as the usual celebration of Victoria Day would probably be carried out on a more modest scale with the jubilee programme attaining the greater brilliance.

Discussion on the proposal arose from consideration of a beautiful poster which Vancouver intends to send to the 3,000 Shrine Temples on the continent inviting them to visit Vancouver following the Shrine gathering in Seattle. A section advertising Victoria will be included in the richly-colored and illustrated folder from the mainland as the result of action taken by Alderman Loney.

ROYAL FAMILY FORMS COUNCIL OF STATE

London, Jan. 20.—The Council of State appointed to-day to take over the royal duties during the King's illness was announced from the Privy Council offices in London as follows:

"Her Majesty the Queen, H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, H.R.H. the Duke of York, H.R.H. the Duke of Gloucester and H.R.H. the Duke of Kent.

"There were present at the Council the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord Chancellor, the Lord President of the Council, Lord Dawson of Penn, Lord Wigram and the Home Secretary.

"Sir Maurice Hankey was in attendance as clerk of the Council.

"The royal prerogatives thus all remain within the hands of the members of the Royal Family.

PROCEDURE VARIED

The appointment of the council departed from the procedure of the two previous instances when members of the Cabinet were named together with the Queen and others of the King's family.

Star Chamber In Act Is Charged

Constitutional Hearing on Trade and Industry Commission Proceeds Before Supreme Court of Canada

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—Attorney-General Reuben of Ontario, contesting validity of the Dominion Trades and Industry Commission Act before the Supreme Court, to-day charged the act established "star chamber methods."

The Dominion finished its arguments on validity of the act, passed at the last session, during the Bennett government's term, and the provinces started their attack on several pertinent clauses. The Ontario Attorney-General objected particularly to appointment of a Dominion public prosecutor and the stipulation there could be no prosecutions under the Combines Act against a company which was a party to a price or production agreement under this statute. He called this an usurpation of provincial control over administration of justice and star-chamber measures.

MILLIONS PRAY FOR HIS RECOVERY

KING GEORGE V

Associated Press Sandringham, Eng., Jan. 20.—The three physicians of King George in an official bulletin to-night said "The King's life is moving peacefully toward its close."

Canadian Press Sandringham, Eng., Jan. 20.—Oxygen was administered to the sinking King George V to-day and his physicians announced his strength was "diminishing."

A person in close touch with court circles described the King's slow weakening as "a general slowing up of the bodily machine."

It was at least the second time oxygen was known to have been given the King since Friday. Every effort was being made to conserve the monarch's strength. Even the visits of Queen Mary and other members of the family to his bedside have been kept as short as possible.

The royal duties were taken over some time before the physicians' announcement by a Council of State appointed with King George's knowledge. Queen Mary and the four royal sons comprise the Council.

A bulletin signed by three physicians announced at 5.30 p.m. "the condition of the King shows diminishing strength."

SAMOA SWEEP BY BIG STORM

Motorboat Sinks; Four
Sailors Saved

Canadian Press Cable via Reuters.
Wellington, N.Z., Jan. 20.—Storms swept the islands of Samoa over the week-end, taking sixteen lives and destroying three-quarters of the banana crop.

A motorboat which left Apia with sixteen passengers and a crew of four to connect with the liner Monterey at Pago Pago was overtaken by the gale and sank about fifteen miles from Apia.

The captain and three others reached Apia in a dinghy. The sixteen drowned were all Samoans.
The storms played havoc with the Samoa banana crop, 75 per cent of which is reported to have been lost.

Prayers For King's Recovery Offered

In Canadian Churches
Special Petitions Offered
Yesterday; All People
Share Anxiety, Says
Premier King

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 20.—In hundreds of churches throughout Canada yesterday, voices were raised in prayer for the recovery of King
George, gravely ill at Sandring-
ham. At many services "God
Save the King," the National Anthem, was sung with special fervor.

At Saint John, N.B., Most Rev. J.
A. Richardson, Archbishop of the Anglican diocese of Fredericton, spoke of the great anxiety caused by His Majesty's illness.

"The whole empire stands under the shadow of a great fear," said the Archbishop. "The King whom we love and honor is critically ill. . . .
The issues of life and death are in the hands of God."

As sharp, icy winds swept the Prairie Provinces, special prayers of intercession were said in Winnipeg,
Regina, Saskatoon and other cities.
In the milder climate of British Columbia, people likewise prayed for his recovery.

In Toronto and Montreal, while no
special services were held, prayers for the King's recovery were offered in all churches. Throughout the provinces of Ontario and Quebec and in Nova Scotia the people joined in prayer for the King.

STATEMENT BY PREMIER
In Ottawa Prime Minister King
said Canada was sharing in the fullest measure the anxiety of the United Kingdom concerning the health of King George.

"One might almost say," the premier stated, "that there is not a church, not a home in the Dominion in which the prayers of the people have not been offered for the King, and in which the anxieties of the Queen,
and other members of the Royal family, have not also been remembered."

In some churches yesterday the latest available bulletins on the condition of the King were read to the congregations.

Dispatches told how in Australia and South Africa, bathed in summer's heat, and in the United Kingdom itself, gripped by a wintry cold wave, and everywhere else in the empire prayers were offered and millions
inquired for word from Sandringham.

At Westminster, Abbey in London yesterday a silence of one minute was observed during the morning service and the same custom was followed in a number of other places. In city cathedrals and in humble country churches throughout Britain similar prayers were offered.

In Sandringham itself, there was a constant vigil maintained at the gates of the royal estate by some or other of the inhabitants, waiting to read the latest bulletin.

The concern for the King's condition extended beyond the limits of the empire.

Messages expressing hope for his

D. Van Vlack On Trial in Idaho

Young Man Before Jury on Charge of Killing Ex-wife

Twin Falls, Idaho, Jan. 20.—
Douglas Van Vlack, who fled from Tacoma two months ago with his pretty young ex-wife, Mildred Hook, went on trial in district court here
today for murder.

Van Vlack was charged also with the murder of Pontiac, a popular state traffic officer who halted the pair near Buhl, Idaho, in their flight from Tacoma. So far, happily, no announcement has been made as to the verdict.

District Sheriff Henry C. Givens, who was with Cooper, also was shot
and died several days later.

"I told her father before I took her that if he didn't leave us alone I'd kill her," Van Vlack declared in a statement to an Associated Press reporter after the bullet-riddled body of his twenty-two-year-old former wife had been discovered in a railroad culvert near here three days after the officers were shot.

Previously, he had admitted the shooting to Sheriff E. P. Prater and two other officers, but he declined to swear to a formal confession after it had been drawn up.

In his account of the flight and the killings that attended it, Van Vlack told of accusing Miss Hook, who had obtained an interlocutory divorce from him a short time before,
on a Tacoma street the night of November 23 and forcing her to accompany him.

TWO TRUCK MEN KILLED BY TRAIN

Canadian Press
Bellefonte, Ont., Jan. 20.—Two Toronto truck drivers, Bill Devine and
Sam Doyle, were killed at Cemetery
Crossing, two miles west of here, early today, when their truck was struck by a Canadian Pacific train.

The men were driving the truck with two trailers belonging to the Loblaw Groceries Co. Ltd. of Toronto. Doyle was at the wheel. Both men were killed instantly.

The wig-wag signals at the crossing were working, and the engineer,
W. Ranton of Smith Falls, blew his whistle as his train neared the crossing at 4:38 a.m.

Speedy recovery were received from Chancellor Hitler of Germany, from Emperor of Japan, and from many other heads of nations. King Victor
Emmanuel of Italy through Dino
Grandi, Ambassador at London, made special inquiries.

Prayers were offered in many churches in the United States yester-

FIVE KILLED IN TRAIN COLLISION

Canadian Press
London, Jan. 20.—Five plate-layers were killed and seven injured yesterday when two engines smashed into a ballast train near Orgham, Lincolnshire.

All the victims were Orgham men, traveling by the ballast train to begin maintenance work along the line. They rode in the last car, which was destroyed by the impact of
two light engines coupled together.

MAN BEATEN; STILL SEIZED

Orangeville, Ont., Jan. 20.—Town
police hurried to a farm near here in reply to an emergency call Saturday evening and found big "Bob" Cook, colorful figure of this district, hoping with a fist fight with Jeff Smith when a third man, John Way, came to Smith's assistance. They brought Cook and in the process he suffered his injuries. Cook is more than sixty years old and more than six feet tall.

Returning to Cook's farm yesterday
police claim they found, in a dugout near the house, a liquor still capable of turning out twenty-five gallons a day. They say they also found two gallons of spirits labelled "Pure Whisky."

Police investigated and then charged Cook with aggravated assault.
Cook told the police, they said, that he was having a fist fight with Jeff
Smith when a third man, John Way, came to Smith's assistance. They brought Cook and in the process he suffered his injuries. Cook is more

Declares Kipling Outlived Powers

Canadian Press
Manchester, Eng., Jan. 20.—In an editorial tribute to Rudyard Kipling,
The Manchester Guardian said he
"like one of his own literary models, had long outlived the prime of his remarkable powers."

"He had suffered the penalty of those who gain an extraordinary early success," the paper said. "Many of his moral and intellectual valuations were conventional. He seemed sometimes to suffer the broodings of a soured party politician. Hence the false notes that marred and wronged his genius—even these could not hide
it."

"It is some years since Kipling made himself a voice in a literature
of unchastened national complacency
and at long intervals he seemed, as in the famous 'Recessional,' to feel faint misgivings about the great organism of national egotism."

"Future generations will read him
in selections, as we read Goldsmith."

TREASURY SUED FOR $4,000,000

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 20.—Liquor taxes involving $4,000,000 will be affected by an action launched against the federal treasury by Dominion Distillery Products, Montreal, to be heard by the Exchequer Court next Thursday. It dates back to the days when export clearances were granted and the United States was dry under the Volstead Act.

The Montreal company seeks refund of sales and excise tax totaling $1,470,938. A similar action by W.
George Ltd., Montreal, seeks $1,200,- 00, but no date has been set for hearing.

Officials of the Justice Department expect the British-American Brewery will sue for $1,000,000 and the 000, but no date has been set for the Dominion case is upheld.

In the early days of the Volstead Act, Canada granted export clearances to liquor vessels although it was apparent the liquor was being landed in United States territory.
The Dominion Distillery paid sales and excise tax of $9 a gallon on exported liquor and now submits it
was collected illegally.

Several years ago the Carling
Brewery of London, Ont., obtained a judgment from the Privy Council in London which ruled the Dominion
did not have power to collect taxes
on exported liquor. The Dominion

INFLUENZA IS WIDESPREAD

Twelve Dead, Thousands Ill
in Manitoba and Ontario

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Jan. 20.—Influenza is sweeping Manitoba and Northwestern
Ontario. Already at least twelve lives have been lost in this province—eight in Winnipeg alone—and thousands of persons are ill of the disease.

Health authorities in Winnipeg
said at the week-end the epidemic was widespread, but not as serious as that in 1919 which took so many lives in its world-wide sweep. Cases have only been dangerous where pneumonia or other complications set in, they said.

From north of Kenora, Ont., 150 miles east of here, come reports of hundreds of Indians being stricken.
At one reserve last week two Indian affairs department officials found every resident ill. The settlement was unable to cook food for several days until the officials took charge.

Four native children died at Caribou, Man., said Rev. I. P. Rowe, missionary in the district. Medical supplies have been sent out from Churchill.

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—Officials of the Indian Affairs Department to-day
were awaiting a report from Indian agents of an influenza epidemic
which was said to be sweeping through Indian settlements over a wide area north of Kenora.

Until it arrives, departmental officials could not give any information regarding the reported spread of "flu
among Indians."

William H. Hobbs, twenty-five-year-old teller who was fatally wounded by bandits who raided a Canadian Bank of Commerce branch last Wednesday, will be held to-morrow after-

THEATRE FOR PORT ALBERNI

Port Alberni, Jan. 20.—Plans are announced for the construction of a new motion picture theatre in Port Alberni, preliminary work to start this week. The building will be ready for use within three months. Local interests are financing the project.

The new building will be on Argyle Street, opposite the office of the National Utilities Corporation, and will cost in the neighborhood of $22,- 000. The structure will be modern as regards sound equipment, seating accommodation and air-conditioning.

PREPARING NOW FOR OTTAWA SESSION

Scotland Yard Inspector in U.S.

Arthur Bishop Tells Reporters at Washington Rackets Cannot Develop
in Britain

Associated Press
Washington, Jan. 20.—Inspector
Arthur Bishop of Scotland Yard told reporters here that kidnappings, racketeering and gang crimes "could not develop in England."

He avoided talk of the Lindbergh case, but defended the death penalty
for violent crimes.

"Men show they have no right to live when they do certain things,"
the inspector declared.

Dressed in a grey morning coat and black trousers, the man from the famous "C.I.D." met reporters in the office of Chief Post Office Inspector Kildroy Aldrich. Bishop came to the United States at the week-end to testify in the "Drake estate swindle"
case in Chicago.

The first question drew a quick reply.

"I can tell you that," he replied:
"There is no kidnapping in England."
"Persistence is the secret of the Yard's success," he said.

"That and the co-operation of the public. But I think persistence is the real answer. We don't leave a case until we have got the fellow who did it."

"In England, when a man commits a crime, he knows he is in for
it. In England, too, there is none of this bludgeoning a fellow."

A reporter asked if he meant the
"hard degree."

ENTER LIKE GENTLEMEN

"Yes," he replied. "When we go on a case, we enter places as gentlemen,
and we get the information we want."

"England has not really any big crime problems."

"Why? Because they're more or less dealt with, I suppose. We don't have any serious criminal gangs. Oh, there was a bunch once who were doing some things with razors, but we cleared them up."

"In America you leave your criminals stewing in their juices for a year or two. In England, crime is unequivocally dealt with. When we have solved a crime, we move quickly
in the courts."

MAN DROWNED WHEN ICE BREAKS

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Jan. 20.—Holger Stromberg, thirty-one, of Winnipeg, was drowned in Lake Winnipeg when a four-ton tractor he was driving broke through the ice, belated reports received here said.

Stromberg, with his brother, Orator, twenty, his brother-in-law, B. Sundberg, and six other fishermen, was moving in equipment for fishing in the Sandy Island district last Tuesday when the accident occurred.

Even outfits had been moved to the scene by the Stromberg brothers with their crawler tractor and they were handling the last outfit when the ice cracked and the tractor, carrying the elder Stromberg with it, plunged into sixty feet of water. The body has not been recovered but a search is being made at the scene,
150 miles north of here.

Stromberg was married two years ago and is survived by the widow and a daughter.

Government Busy With Details of Measures to Be Laid Before Parliament
Following Opening Feb. 6

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—Intensive preparation for the opening of Parliament on February 6, will mark the present week in Ottawa. One of the big problems facing the government is unemployment relief and the Department of Labor, under Hon. N.
McC. Rogers, will endeavor to have ready for Parliament a reclassification of these persons receiving direct relief in the expectation it will enable the Commons and the Senate to become better informed on the needs of the situation. His survey will also provide data for the proposed national commission on employment
and relief.

The Supreme Court will continue its hearings on the references as to the constitutionality of the social and economic legislation passed at the last two sessions. In the following week
a conference of law officers of the provincial governments and the federal Department of Justice will study
methods of amending the British North America Act. The conference has been called by Hon. Ernest La-ponte.

The cabinet will grapple this week
with a heavy legislative programme
while Finance Minister Charles A.
Dunning is busy with budget making.
The minister has interviewed numerous delegations and received hundreds of communications offering suggestions and requests for special tariff action.

While budget details are always kept strictly secret, the usual speculation has opened and the general belief seems to be the government will go slowly in carrying out promised lowering of the tariff structure.

THE KING

IN ITSELF THE APPOINTMENT OF A state council at Sandringham does not mean that the illness of the King is regarded as being fatal. It would have been necessary even if it were certain that he would recover, for in any case after so serious a siege he would be incapacitated from performing his sovereign duties for an indefinite period. A similar council was appointed at the time of his illness seven years ago. This procedure is followed also when the monarch leaves the country. The King himself signs the state paper establishing the council, which, in the present instance, consists of the Queen, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, the Duke of Gloucester and the Duke of Kent.

Meanwhile, the bulletin issued by the physicians this afternoon contained an ominous admission. This was in effect that His Majesty's strength was diminishing. The morning bulletin reported that he had passed a more restful night and that no substantial change in his condition could be recorded. It seems evident, however, that the siege is taking a heavy toll of his vitality and that when the crisis is reached to-night every bit of his fighting spirit will be needed for the crucial struggle.

Everywhere, whether inside or outside of the English-speaking world, there are fervent hopes that he will overcome his formidable adversary. No monarch anywhere is so generally esteemed, and the interest which has been aroused by his illness is shown by the fact that news from Sandringham has taken first place in the newspapers and in radio broadcasts in every quarter of the globe.

If there should be a fatal termination of the fight which is going on at Sandringham the announcement is not likely to be made until several hours after the end. There are certain state requirements to be met following the demise of a ruler, and not until this has been done is the public informed of its loss.

BACK TO THE LAND

WITH LITTLE OR NO OSTENTATION, since 1932, 1,000 families have been taken from congested or depressed areas in Quebec and settled on the land—a little more than 300 miles from Montreal. The territory to which these people have gone is that known as New Temiscamingue—a northwest section of the province.

Most of these new land settlers have been on relief for several years; but they are now in a position to hew out a living for themselves and prove to this modern world that the pioneering spirit is by no means dead. Already there are five parishes in New Temiscamingue, with two more in the process of formation.

Situated near the rich gold-mining area of the Rouyn district, and in the heart of virgin territory where the hunting and fishing are among the finest in the world, the men of these colonies are in some cases employed in the mines, and so are able to send money to their families during the difficult period of the new development, while others go into the bush and earn a livelihood as lumberjacks.

The scheme under which these Quebec families have been settled was a three-way affair, the federal, provincial, and municipal governments providing each settler with $200 apiece. This is held as a credit and is set against expenses of building, food, and transportation in the initial stages. Since 1933, however, the expense has been met by the provincial government and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, collaborating with publicity and transportation services.

Obvious care has been taken in the choice of the head of the families sent to New Temiscamingue, for, for the most part, the men are originally from the land, men who can turn their hands to practically every form of manual labor. This, of course, bespeaks success from the outset.

So far, the majority of the settlers in the territory in question are from Montreal, Three Rivers, Hull, Sherbrooke, Joliette, and the Ottawa Valley, and while French-Canadians predominate, there is also a fair proportion of English-speaking settlers, who are also accompanied by their clergymen. Incidentally, the report of the experiment to date notes that a draftsman, who was for a long time on relief, but who to-day is one of the minority of self-supporting farmers in the district.

The main point of this settlement in Quebec is that it shows what can be done with the raw human material if proper encouragement is forthcoming. Hard work is ahead of the people who have chosen New Temiscamingue as their future home. But they will know nothing of the hardships of the pioneers of half a century ago. After their day's labors are over, they will be able to "listen in" to the progress of the world hundreds of miles away. True, they may not all be able to indulge in the luxury of a radio, but in a community which has made up its mind to turn its back on relief, there can be nightly foregatherings of many families. The sense of isolation is no more.

It is a commonplace to say that this Dominion's broad acres are only sparsely settled, that there is sufficient vacant land to accommodate all our unemployed, that if all the money which has been doled out on what, after all, has been the dole in its worst form in the last five years, had been spent on enterprises such as that in which Quebec has engaged, there would be less disturbance of the economic life of the country than there is at the present time. But it is none the less true.

BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT

IN THE HEARING BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT OF CANADA to test the constitutionality of eight important measures passed by the last Parliament it will be noted that the Canadian government through able counsel is endeavoring to convince the tribunal that the legislation is constitutional. This does not mean that the government believes that these measures are within the legal power of the Dominion, for when it was in opposition it challenged the constitutionality of some of them, and urged the government of the time to obtain a ruling from the Supreme Court on all of them before rushing them to the statute books. But to ensure the fullest ventilation of the status of the legislation it is necessary that the Dominion's case should be presented in the most effective way and competent counsel have been engaged for the purpose. The provinces are represented by lawyers of equal distinction.

Upon the decision of the court, or the Privy Council if the issues should be carried that far, will depend the nature of many of the amendments to be made in the British North America Act.

LIFTING THE VEIL

FROM TIME TO TIME VISITORS TO Germany who give the country and conditions obtaining there more than a superficial survey tell us that newspaper reports of the manner in which the Jews are being treated by the Nazi regime are not only not exaggerated but are extremely mild compared with the facts. We get support for this contention in the resignation of Mr. J. C. Macdonald, High Commissioner for refugees coming from Germany, who lately gave up his important post by reason of what he terms the hopelessness of the whole situation.

Mr. Macdonald, explaining in detail the action he has taken, says the intensified persecution in Germany threatens the pauperization or exile of hundreds of thousands of Germans—men, women, and children—not only Jews but also the "non-Aryan" Christians treated as Jews, and Protestants and Catholics who, in obedience to their faith and conscience, dare to resist the absolute will of the National Socialist State.

Apart from all questions of principle and of religious persecution, Mr. Macdonald explains, one portentous fact confronts the community of states. More than half a million persons, according to the information in his possession, against whom no charge can be made except that they are not what the National Socialists choose to regard as "Nordic," are being crushed. We quote a part of Mr. Macdonald's statement:

"Tens of thousands are to-day anxiously seeking ways to flee abroad; but except for those prepared to sacrifice the whole or greater part of their savings, the official restrictions on export of capital effectively bar the road to escape, and the doors of most countries are closed against impoverished fugitives. Nevertheless, if the present pressure is not relieved it is inconceivable that those who can flee will remain within Germany."

"Relentlessly the Jews and 'non-Aryans' are excluded from all public offices, from the exercise of the liberal professions, and from any part in the cultural and intellectual life of Germany."

"It is being made increasingly difficult for Jews and 'non-Aryans' in Germany to sustain life. In many parts of the country there is a systematic attempt at starvation of the Jewish population. In no field of economic activity is there any security whatsoever."

"This influx has exhausted already the resources of the Jewish philanthropic and educational institutions in Germany. The victims of the terrorism are being driven to the point where, in utter anguish and despair, they may burst the frontiers in fresh waves of refugees."

Many thousands of the Jews who have fled from Germany have settled in Palestine; but it has naturally been a difficult job to get them established. Quite a number of professional people, Mr. Macdonald points out, have been able to pursue their own avocations in the new land to which they have gone. For example, of more than 600 physicians who have migrated to the Holy Land in the last two years, approximately 400 are practising medicine, among them famous specialists well known to the medical world. Many artisans, students, laborers, and unskilled workers, moreover, have gone on the land and have taken up mixed farming; in most instances they are doing quite well.

It is interesting to note, by the way, that of nearly 80,000 Jews who have fled from Germany since the Nazi regime assumed power, fully one-third of them have gone to Palestine, yet before 1933 there were only about 2,000 German Jews in that country. These, according to Mr. Erich Gottgertzen, the Jerusalem correspondent of The Menorah Journal, the Jewish quarterly, "will not remain merely German-Jewish immigrants," on the contrary, "within the next two or three years they will become Jews, and nothing but Jews." They will be 100 per cent Jews when their persecutor has been forced along the way of all dictators.

What Other Papers Say

WORTH REMEMBERING
The Toronto Mail and Empire

No doubt in the choice of a Conservative leader due attention will be paid to the necessity of the leaders having a following.

A SELF-MADE MAN
The Baltimore Sun

America is traditionally the home of self-made men, yet it is unlikely that any American ever made for himself a more brilliant career than the son of a London fruit merchant, who went on his own as a cabin boy at the age of fourteen and who died as the Marquess of Reading.

JAPANESE MANDATED ISLANDS
The Cleveland Plain Dealer

These islands, formerly German, lie between Hawaii and the Philippines. After the war Japan took possession of them as an agent of the League. The principal and agent relationship was dissolved when the empire, stung by the world reproach over the theft of Manchuria, packed her grip and left Geneva for home. Now the agent, having repudiated the principal, refuses to surrender the token of their former relationship. Japan has as much right to hold these mandated islands as she has to hold the former territory of Manchuria, and no more. Perhaps the chief importance of the incident is in its advertisement of the Japanese point of view touching world opinion. All that matters to Tokyo is that the empire wants and has these Pacific islands.

Loose Ends

After the war songs have been forgotten the tales will remain—we cram ourselves with sugar-coated pills and seem to get nowhere. The compiler gathers the rays, but has some curious notions.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

FAIRIES

WHEN I WAS A BOY, going to school, we used to be taught that Kipling was a great writer, but a dangerous jingo, the high priest of imperialism, the spokesman of a predatory empire, a singer who sang of battle and rapine. But looking back on Kipling, now that he is gone, you realize that this was the least important side of him. His message was supposed to be the message of empire, but his real genius lay much deeper than politics or any political idea. His real genius lay in his knowledge of men and deeper still, his knowledge of children.

When the empire has joined the other empires of history, when the national boundaries have been changed and the races all mixed up again into new breeds and combinations, and all the great of this time have departed, Kipling will be remembered because under all that belittling and belittling of his imperialism, all that belittling of his earthiness and rugged realism, Kipling believed mostly in something else entirely. He believed in fairies. He could put into words the thoughts and the hopes and the yearnings of a child—a medium much more enduring than empires.

When the phantom rickshaws and the Indian officers' messes and the private soldiers and all that glittering procession of a purple imperial era have passed on and been forgotten, there will still remain the Jungle Books, with all the immortal grip of the jungle on men's hearts, and some fairy stories that have the stuff of childhood in them.

There is always too much depreciation of men in our own generation. After a while we may look back and say that Kipling was the only Englishman of first-rate genius in the first part of this century. Maupassant, the French writer who is fairly competent to judge, says Kipling was one of the great writers of his time. But he was a more interesting phenomenon than that. He was the phenomenon peculiar alone to our race, the same phenomenon which produced Shakespeare—the hard-boiled, worldly man, singing of war and wine and women, but only as a mask for something underneath. Undoubtedly, as a race, we are children of about five years old, still believing in fairies, but we never admit it, lest we be thought silly. Kipling knew it and could say it without being silly. That was his great gift. In a line of poetry here and there, a fragment of prose, the inner state of our nature was revealed. And it didn't seem silly. It seemed all right. That was why Kipling was more important than all the statesmen, generals and bankers of England put together.

SUGAR-COATED
EVERY PAPER or magazine you pick up nowadays, and nearly every radio broadcast, is crammed with book reviews. You would think from their popularity that we lived in a world of book lovers, of experts in culture and soaring intelligence. That is where you would be wrong. The book reviews probably mean just the opposite. They mean that we are too lazy to read the books as they pour off the press and want them whittled down, pointed to us in sugar-coated capsules that can be absorbed, without any of their unpleasant thoughts, at one easy swallow.

It is getting now so that a man reads ten or fifteen book reviews a week and imagines that he has read the equivalent of at least a couple of books altogether; whereas he has actually read the equivalent of nothing. You might as well say that if you look at enough pictures of the Rocky Mountains you have absorbed the equivalent of a week spent climbing them. You might as well say that if you go to the movies often enough you have experienced all the sensations of falling in love.

The fact is that book reviews were originally intended to give a critic's opinion on a book so as to bring to light debatable points in it, round out the reader's perceptions of the thing. Now the reviewers have become the book itself for most of us. We are all busy, rushing through short reviews by the acre, but in this process (to which I am one of the worst addicts in the country) we really never absorb anything worth while.

The only use for such compressed and denatured stuff, in fact, is to make you sound learned. With a few reviews crammed under your belt, you can go out into society and appear quite civilized. It's almost as effective as a couple of cocktails grammars in the same place. I know men who haven't read a book for years and yet can talk about all the latest publications with a fine, deceiving gloss. They have a high reputation for erudition; whereas the real readers and students, having to labor through the original texts at length, seldom absorb anything about more than two or three new books a month at most.

For example, I could tell you about almost any new book and haven't read any of them, being addicted like a dope fiend to the opium of slick review.

The tragedy of the whole arrangement is that the students can never read enough of the full books to keep up with the knowledge and culture of the times and the rest of us can keep up with the times but never get the culture and knowledge. I have come, therefore, to the striking conclusion that the knowledge and culture of the ordinary man, in comparison with the culture available and necessary, is getting smaller and smaller. At one stage of our history, a man could read reasonably short books of things if he could read and write and get elected to the Legislature or the city council. Now knowledge is pouring out in such a volcano that a college graduate is ignorant a month after leaving college.

In proportion to what you must learn to know anything about the modern world, we are all growing more ignorant all the time. In proportion to what we should know if we are going to live comfortably in this amazing mad house, we know less and less. In proportion to what we should know if we are going to keep this form of civilization going at all, we are practically savages.

So, in a desperate effort to keep up with the tide, we rush out and cram ourselves with brief reviews, with articles condensed and juiced, with snippets of exploded economic theory and swallows a few sweet sugar-coated slogans and we imagine we are clothed and fed and ready to face the world.

Such an equipment serves very well until you run into a storm. Millions of the most abnormally ignorant men imaginable are going about with reputations for learning and wisdom. They fill our parliaments. They rule our economies. They captain our industries. They taste statements to the newspapers forecasting the future and explaining why reformers of every sort are crazy. And the only compensation for all this is that, the educated ones, the real students, are usually still more unreliable and still more dangerous in posts of responsibility. They know but can't think; whereas the ignorant ones can often think but don't know how.

When you get the perfect combination, the man who can do both, then you have something. The world usually puts him in jail or burns him at the stake.

DISAPPOINTMENT

DR. ARTHUR HOLLY COMPTON, one of the first half dozen scientists of the world, is going to sail out of Vancouver shortly with a weird collection of instruments and measure the rays beating down from the sun upon the mid-Pacific. Dr. Compton is America's number one expert on rays. He collects them. He sorts them out and explains them. With him life is just one ray after another, and you would be amazed, in reading about him, to find out how many rays are shooting through you every second until you are

WARNING!

The Times urges its correspondents to restrict their contributions to 600 words. Henceforth it positively will not print communications which exceed that length.

These letters must be plainly written on one side of the paper only, and must be accompanied by the names and addresses of the writers, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Letters will not be re-written for publication. If they are not legible no attempt will be made to read them.

Letters not used will not be returned to the writers. Letters containing offensive personal reflections will not be printed.

These rules, which henceforth will be carried out absolutely, are designed as much for the protection of our patient readers as for that of The Times.

CAUTION!

The Times will not assume responsibility for the return to authors of articles sent for publication in the Correspondence Column or anywhere else in this newspaper, whether they are published or not, unless they have been specially directed.

BLACK WIDOWS

To the Editor:—Allow me to correct the impression given in a story in your issue of Friday, January 17, entitled, "Black Widow Spiders now sent to all parts of the Dominion." On reading this article the public is liable to wonder why poisonous creatures of this description are being distributed alive and in numbers. As a matter of fact none have been sent away except a few preserved in alcohol for museum purposes, and the fact that any others have been sent alive or otherwise is solely due to a misapprehension on the part of your reporter.

W. DOWNES,
Dominion Entomological Laboratory, Victoria, Jan. 18.

"FESTIVAL OF ART"

To the Editor:—The excellent production, "Festival of Art," presented by Gonzales Chapter I.O.D.E. in the Empire Theatre last week was marred somewhat by a most regrettable omission. In the final tableau every nation within the British Commonwealth was represented except Ireland. Why, may one be permitted to ask? True, it is that a section of the Emerald Isle, the province of Ulster, was included. But Ulster is not Ireland any more than is Alberta Canada. Moreover, officially considered, the section of Ulster known as northern Ireland is attached politically to Great Britain. It was therefore to be expected that a character in costume representing Ireland and not a comparatively small corner of that country would have been more in order.

Beaving out of consideration questions of political or party difference, surely the splendid contribution, culture and otherwise, made by Ireland to civilization from the earliest times is something most worthy of recognition. Had the tableau been arranged by a group of bigoted Orangemen, one could have understood the omission. As it is, one is left in a quandary.

JAS. FIFE WILSON,

UNEMPLOYED

To the Editor: Vancouver Island Unemployed League is not connected with any other organization in the city, and is not a political organization. Our purpose is to unite all unemployed persons in one organization so that we may be able to bring more food, clothing, fuel and better homes to live in, to the members of the organization.

The Vancouver Island Unemployed League calls to the unemployed of the city and Vancouver Island to organize for the purpose of raising the amount of relief. The price of food has gone up so high that it is impossible to live on what we are getting at the present time. Hence are a few questions for your consideration:

1. Is $2.50 per month enough for fuel at the present time?
2. Is $2.50 per month for each child, regardless of age, enough for food?
3. Is $2 per person every three months enough for clothing?
4. Is $15 per month enough for you and your wife to live on?
5. What kind of a house can you get for $3.50 per month?

Answer the above questions and send your protest to the Vancouver Island Unemployed League, 1510 Government Street, Victoria, B.C.

H. ALLMAN, Secretary.

VANCOUVER BEER LICENSE

To the Editor:—The indignation aroused relative to the Palms Hotel beer license is largely superficial and is tainted by both ignorance and intolerance. In the press we read that the Wilson brothers are the sole owners of the shares in the Palms Company. What of that?

If you, Mr. Editor, or myself, had the granting power of this license, I am sure that the first consideration uppermost in our minds would be the "moral character" of those involved.

The Wilson brothers are already proprietors of both the "Georgia" and the "York" licenses. In a business way only I am acquainted with Messrs. Wilson and Wilson, and I speak without the slightest prejudice.

For moral character and running "such businesses" on the strictest possible footing I doubt very much if these gentlemen can be equalled in Vancouver. I have heard several complaints regarding their methods of completion.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

January 20, 1911

(From The Times Files)
John Jardine, elected as a Labor Liberal in 1907 and re-elected in 1909 as the official Liberal candidate, is now a supporter of the McBride Government.

A false alarm which is said to have been turned in by two small boys, called the fire brigade to the corner of Mary and Lime Streets, Victoria West, at midnight.

The annual social gathering of the Congregational Church was held in the schoolroom last night. A very enjoyable time was spent by the large number present.

The transmission line of the Vancouver Power Company from Jordan River will cross the harbor just north of the Point Ellice Bridge. The work of stringing the wires is now proceeding in Victoria West. At present some 300 men are employed at the Jordan River plant. Owing to the recent bad weather operations were seriously interfered with.

Preliminary to the introduction of the new system of garbage collection, Wm. Northcote, the purchasing agent of the corporation, is calling for tenders, which will be received up till 4 p.m., Monday, January 30, for eight heavy cart horses, eight dump carts and a similar number of sets of dump harness.

Work on the construction of the new wireless station at Dead Tree Point, Queen Charlotte Islands, the latest plant in the chain of stations being built on the Pacific coast by the Dominion Government, is nearing completion.

MAKES TRIPLE END PLAY

Declarer, Faced With Seven Trumps in One Hand, Forces Lead Three Times to Win Contract

By WM. E. McKENNEY

Here is a freak hand which proves that anything can happen in a game of bridge. It is a stacked hand, to show you the principle of the end play.

Now, of course, if this hand were played out, you can rest assured that declarer at some time or other would lead trump, and then he could not make the hand. But you must admit that it is a very amusing hand.

Just imagine an opponent holding seven trump to your six, and being able to make only three tricks with them. Let us follow the play:

West opens the ace of hearts, which South trumps with the deuce of spades. A small diamond is led and won in dummy with the king. Another heart is returned and trumped with the six of spades.

The ace of diamonds is cashed. A small club is led and won in dummy with the ace and a club returned and won by declarer with the king.

This leaves declarer with four trumps, two diamonds and a club. West has nothing but trump.

Declarer leads a diamond and West is forced to trump. Of course,

Today's Contract Problem

South has the contract for four spades. What should East play on West's opening heart lead? How would you, as declarer, plan the play of the hand? Do not look at the East and West hands.

West has to play a trump, declarer wins, and then leads another diamond, again forcing West to trump. Another trump is led by West, declarer takes it and returns a club.

West ruffs with the nine of spades, and now he must lead from his king-jack of spades into declarer's ace-queen.

You will notice that declarer has employed a triple end play to make his contract.

VICTORIA BRANCH WINS TROPHY

Word has been received from the head office of the Montreal Life Insurance Company that the Maple Leaf Trophy was won in the month of December by the Victoria agency. This trophy is set up for monthly competition between the agencies of the company throughout Canada, and it is considered a signal achievement to gain it.

Frank W. Taylor, C.I.U., the company's district manager for Vancouver Island, reports a steady improvement in the business of his branch during the last few months, and since it has been repeatedly demonstrated that life insurance sales are a sure index of general business conditions, he considers that confidence has been restored and that business in general is on the up-grade.

Road, Poll And Dog Taxes Due

Warning Issued By City Collector Against Delinquency in Meeting Levies

Persons who have received city road, poll and dog tax notices and who do not pay them or claim exemption within the time allotted on the notices will be considered as tax evaders and treated as such, Norman Lord, collector for those departments, said today.

His remarks were in the form of a warning which will precede action against delinquents.

The taxes are now due in the city and notices have been mailed. Anyone receiving a notice is compelled by law to pay the tax or claim exemption. Persons who secure notices must appear at the city collector's office within a specified time to meet the levies or claim exemption. If they fail to do so, proceedings which the city can take against them in court.

Penalties for road and poll tax evasion range from costs to a fine of $10. Penalties for dog owners who do not meet their license charge are more severe.

SAFETY MOVE IN LOGGING

Minister Co-operates With Industry to Cut Down Toll in Woods

Plans for a safety committee to cut down loss of life and injury in British Columbia woods have been worked out by Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, in conjunction with the B.C. Loggers' Association and the Workmen's Compensation Board.

The loggers, said the minister, have shown great willingness to co-operate in his campaign to further safety measures in the camps. It is proposed to have pictures made of the dangerous moments in logging operations and post them with notices around the camp as pictorial warnings to the men.

Investigation has shown, he explained, that the greatest danger in the woods exists in occupations where men are working on contract or piece work, causing speeding up which may result in failure to take proper precautions.

The Loggers' Association has proposed changes in the safety regulations, laid down by the Workmen's Compensation Board to make them stricter. Whether this will be done has not been decided.

COINS COVER 1,600 YEARS

Interesting Collection of Copper Pieces Ranging From Roman to Queen Victoria Coins Owned by S. H. Shaw

An interesting collection of copper coins covering a period of over 1,600 years was brought to The Times newspaper Saturday by S. H. Shaw of the Canadian National Railway.

Barilets of the collection were two Roman coins, dating from the third century of the present era. Two other Roman coins of slightly later date were in exceptionally good condition.

With the exception of two early United States one-cent pieces and an interesting French specimen, the remainder were English coins. They ranged from the time of James II onwards, including the reigns of George I, II, III and IV.

Of interest in this group were a farthing of South Wales, dated 1793, and two coins of Queen Victoria which are believed to be rare, one a third of a farthing and the other a half farthing.

The French coin is of historical interest, having been minted under Louis XVI in the last year before the revolution.

EXPORTS AT HIGH MARK

B.C. Shipped 854,000,000 Feet of Lumber Overseas in 1935

Figures checked to-day by forest branch officials showed that the British Columbia lumber industry missed by only 5,000,000 feet the established record for record for overseas lumber exports. In 1935, despite a loss of 40,000,000 feet in the Japanese market and stiffer Russian competition in the United Kingdom.

Preliminary estimates put the waterborne shipments from the province at 854,000,000 feet for the twelve months. This compares with 859,000,000 feet in 1934, the all-time record.

For six months British Columbia shipped practically no lumber to Japan because of the tariff war which was finally ended in June of January 1. Had this embargo not occurred a new record would have been established because in the first six months of the year Japan took 42,000,000 feet.

Evidence of the steadiness of the United Kingdom market is given in the figures, with shipments there reaching 456,000,000 feet, a new high mark just slightly in excess of the 1934 export.

A big factor in this was a 175 per cent increase in shipments of B.C. made doors. Where 400,000 were exported in 1934, 1,100,000 went out last year.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

The soul of a dying Maori, New Zealand tribesman, had to travel to the far north on leaving his human abode, before it could arrive in the spirit world, and the path to the distant pole had to be straight, his compatriots believed. So the Maoris built their homes, or "whares," with the doorways facing the north, and death came so much easier to the afflicted ones within. The doorway also was the main meeting place, where the natives enjoyed the warmth of the sun most of the day.

The Maori was a master at carving, examples of his work being reproduced in New Zealand's latest pictorial series. Below, for instance, is the two-penny stamp showing a Maori house, with its walls and door and the window frames elaborately decorated with Maori carvings. Inside, the walls are paneled with intricately woven designs.

Only the whares of chiefs and tribal meeting houses, were carved in this way, and members of entire tribes participated in the work, which took many months, even years, to complete.

Canadian Press

Toronto, Jan. 20.—Mrs. Nellie Brooke Stull of Elyria, Ohio, National President of the Widows and Widowers' Club, and one of her associates, Rawleigh Allen of Nashville, Tenn., were arrested here yesterday and held without bail on charges of conspiracy to defraud several of Toronto's lonely hearts.

Mrs. Stull and Allen arrived here last Tuesday and the former, in interviews with reporters, told of her plans to expedite the work of Dan Cupid here by bringing lonely persons, particularly widows and widowers together. Mrs. Stull talked freely of some of the wealthy catches she had on her list.

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
About the end of the nineteenth century, a Dutch doctor noticed that people who ate polished rice became paralyzed and suffered from inflammation of the nerves. At the same time, those who ate the whole rice did not develop these symptoms.
From this discovery came the first knowledge of vitamins and facts about the original vitamin, now termed B-1. The form of neuritis and paralysis called beriberi, which results from lack of vitamin B-1, was the first to come to the attention of the medical profession.
Vitamin B-1 is essential to growth, health, and appetite. It seems to be quite definitely associated with functioning of the bowel.
When we are deprived of vitamin B-1, we lose our appetite. With this is a serious matter, because it interferes with their growth.
Beriberi, or polyneuritis, does not turn up frequently in the United States, but does occur, for instance among alcoholics, who, while they are drinking heavily, fail to partake of food.
Neuritis will occur also in persons with excessive action of the thyroid, because in their case the vitamin B-1 seems to be damaged or destroyed.

Maroons, Chicago and Detroit Register Hockey Victories

THE SPORTS MIRROR

THINGS ARE HAPPENING in the badminton world with such speed and confusion these days that shuttle critics already are forecasting the Canadian championships at Winnipeg in March will provide the biggest round of upsets in the tournament's history. And badminton is not a game noted for its upsets.

It has become apparent to those who should know that young Rod Phelan, Toronto, 1935 men's singles champion, is no clutch in any way to repeat his triumph. That left-handed Margaret Taylor, Kelowna, will walk away for a second straight time with the women's crown. Just a few months ago these youngsters seemed assured of moderately long reigns.

Phelan's conqueror may be any one of half a dozen stars. Jack Storey, clubmate of the red-headed champion, showed that Phelan was vulnerable when he trounced the titleholder in the flush of the Toronto and district championships early this month. Storey won this event last year, losing Phelan of a grand slam in major tournaments.

But in the big show there are other shades of Storey who may spring a surprise. Among these is the greatest all-around badminton player since Jack Purcell deserted amateur ranks—Douglas Grant. The Halifax boy, 11 last winter and unable to defend the Canadian singles title, he won in 1933 and 1934, is on the comeback trail. He lives in Winnipeg now and he showed his great game at close to its best in winning the Winnipeg and district title. He will be strongly favored to add to this the Manitoba event and then he will attempt to knock Phelan off the national pedestal. At his best, Grant should accomplish this without loss of too many points. Victors will get an opportunity to watch Grant in action when he plays at the Armories in the Vancouver Island championships this month. Margaret Taylor will also be entered in the tournament.

Ottawa's Bev. Mitchell and giant Dick Birch, Vancouver, are other top-notchers gunning for Phelan's crown. Semi-finalist in 1934 and again last year, Birch figures to be about ready to crash through. Only Grant and Phelan have taken the measure of the big British Columbian in the last two seasons.

The eighteen-year-old Miss Taylor, whose fourth-year shots completely baffled the opposition last year, must win again to prove to many observers that she is a greater player than Mrs. W. R. Walton, Toronto, or Mrs. Anna Kier Patrick, Vancouver. Mrs. Walton seems to have the women's field under her thumb in the east, just as she did last winter when only Miss Taylor defeated her in the Canadian final. The Robertson sisters of Ottawa, Ruth and Margaret, remain her most dangerous opponents.

Badminton experts believe the men's doubles will provide the real fireworks at Winnipeg. They name three "hot" combinations in the east alone—and anticipate something equally good coming out of British Columbia. Perhaps, they say, Birch and the veteran Jack Underhill will team up for a crack at the big title. The east's big three are Jack Sibbald and Len Cole, Woodstock, Ont., Canadian champions; Gerry Purcell and Murray Snyder, Kitchener, 1935 Ontario champions, and Jack Nash and Colin Brown, London, Ont. Nash, noted amateur golfer, and Brown are being touted as the next titleholders.

In minor engagements this season, they have beaten both the Woodstock and Kitchener pairs. In an exhibition game, they downed Gerry and Jack Purcell, and when you stand on the other side of the net from Jack and win at all, then you're going some. Toronto's champions, Phelan and V. F. Perreth, are not being overlooked, either.

Conacher's Fine Solo Goal Gives First-named Win

DETROIT BLANKS TORONTO 4 TO 0

Maroons 2, Americans 1.
Chicago 2, Boston 1.
Detroit 1, Toronto 0.
Toronto 3, Boston 2.
Canadians 2, Rangers 1.

Most hockey managers yell "go out there and get me a goal" when their team needs one, but Lionel Conacher has a different method. He steps out on the ice and shows his players how to win the game. Making his debut as player-manager of Montreal Maroons yesterday evening at New York, the "Big Train" won from Americans 2 to 1 in the third period with a brilliant solo goal.

If he can keep that up he is sure to be retained to guide the Stanley Cup champions until Tommy Gorman has recovered. Rumor has it Gorman will not be well enough to pilot Maroons again this season. The win from Americans shot Maroons into the National League's Canadian division leadership again after Toronto Maple Leafs had held the spot for twenty-four hours by beating Boston Bruins 5 to 2 at Toronto Saturday. Without Charlie Conacher and Joe Primeau they couldn't keep up the pace and Detroit beat them 4 to 0 yesterday evening. BACK IN CELLAR

The Maroon victory also shot American into the Canadian division cellar again as Canadians defeated New York Rangers 3 to 1 in Montreal Saturday night. Boston lost both their week-end games, bowing 2 to 1 to Chicago yesterday evening after taking a defeat from Leafs Saturday.

Maroons were out in front for most of the game at Madison Square Garden. Jimmy Ward shot them into the lead mid-way through the first period and they retained the lead until Art Chapman combined with Sweeney Schriner and Eddie Wiseman for a goal in the third.

Conacher couldn't see starting his Maroon managerial career with a tie so a minute and a half later he sped through the whole American team alone, drew Roy Worters to one side of the net and flipped the winning tally past him.

Another veteran, Frank Clancy, Toronto Leafs, played his best game of the season and inspired the other Leafs to an effort that left Bruins far behind. Art Jackson, Pep Kelly and Andy Blair scored in their second period before Boston got their first goal through Conacher Welland and Clancy and Bill Thoms got markers in the third. Babe Siebert got the second Maroon counter on a penalty shot in that period.

Tired after their good showing against Bruins, Leafs were no match for the fresh Wings at Detroit. The Wings scored one goal in the first period, added two in the second and another in the third while shutting Leafs out. Johnny Sorell, Syd Howe, Pete Kelly and Bucko McDonald were their successful marksmen.

Boston had the score tied for fourteen minutes at Chicago, but Louis Trudel scored the first goal of the game until Welland evened things up a minute and a half after the third started.

Paul Haynes and Leroy Goldsworthy were the scoring big shots in the Canadian win from Rangers. Both got a goal and an assist and Goldsworthy tied with Aurel Joliat, his teammate, as the league's leading goal scorer. Each has twelve.

Haynes scored in the third minute of the game and Rangers were unable to even it up until thirteen minutes of the third period had been played, when Frank Boucher tallied on a play with Butch Keeling and Glen Brydson. Johnny Gagnon put Canadians ahead again four minutes later and Goldworthy got their third goal two minutes after that.

Summaries follow:
BOSTON—TORONTO
First period—No scoring. Penalties: Day (major), Beattie (major), Horner, Runge, Kelly, Jenkins and Jackson.

Eight Entered In Tournament

More Entries Expected For City Chess Competition on January 24

Eight entries have so far been booked for the annual Victoria Chess tournament which will be held Friday evening, January 24, in the clubrooms of the City Chess Club, 1118 Langley Street. Others who contemplate entering the contest are requested to leave their entries with the secretary as soon as possible.

The following rules will govern the tournament. They are subject to revision by the committee at any time.

The championship will be a straight knockout, with the loser of the first round entering the tournament.

Best of two games for promotion to next round.

All games will commence at 8 o'clock in the evening. Any player not in position by 8:30 o'clock will be defaulted.

All unfinished games will be judged at 11 o'clock.

At least one game shall be played each week.

All matches will be under the supervision of an umpire. Any disputes will be settled by a committee consisting of T. H. Piper, A. G. Moody and D. W. Mills. In regard to disputes this committee's decision will be final.

In the opinion of the umpire it is in the best interest of the tournament to impose a time limit, he may do so at any time.

All entries must be in the hands of Secretary J. W. Thornburn, 570 Niagara Street, not later than 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, January 21. The City Chess Club is promoting the tournament.

Metropolitans And Lake Hill Tie 3 to 3

Despite a heavy rainstorm, Lake Hill and Metropolitans turned out to contest the only game in the Sunday School Soccer League at Central Park on Saturday morning. Of the four previous meetings of these teams three have ended in ties, while Lake Hill have a win to their credit.

As in the previous game Lake Hill again took the lead with an early goal and led by 2 to 1 at half time.

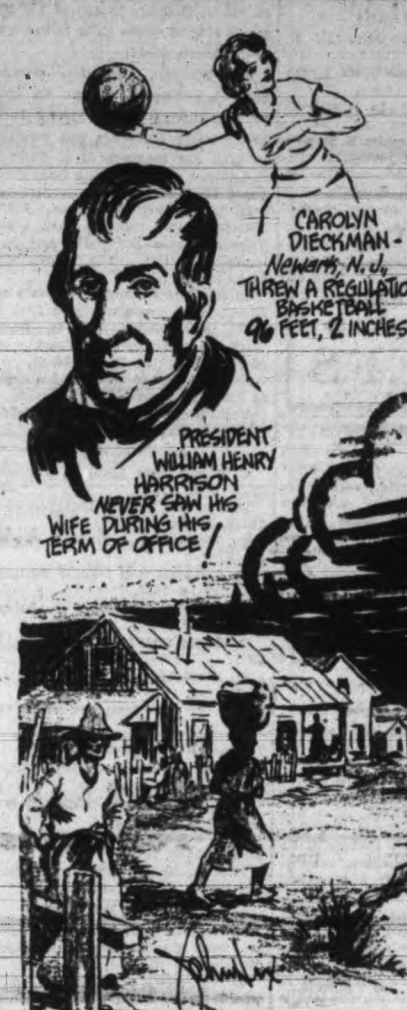

By constructive attack Lake Hill held the upper hand, but Metropolitans fought back strongly to bring the final score to three goals each.

Dunn showed a good understanding of wing-play, and scored a nice goal for the suburban boys, while Kitching garnered the other two goals. Efford, Hope and Malcolm registered for the Metropolitans.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

A whole fountain full of punch—approximately 2,300 gallons of it—was served by Edward Russell, English captain-general and commander-in-chief of the British forces in the Mediterranean, at a party at his home in Cadiz. The punch was served by a young servant boy, who paddled around in a small boat in the sea of the punch, ladling out drinks to the guests.

The recipe for this remarkable bowl of punch has been preserved. It went four hogsheads of brandy, twice that amount of water, a little over 500 gallons of dry mountain Malaga wine, 25,600 lemons, 1,300 pounds of sugar and five pounds of grated nutmeg.

President Harrison, whose term of office was cut short by death, never saw his wife after his inauguration. She was ill when he took office in March 4, 1841, and had remained at their Ohio home, expecting to join her husband later. Before she started for Washington, however, came word of his death.

Healthiest of all the West Indian Islands, and more than 95 per cent of its acreage under cultivation, Barbados Island is one of the world's most thickly populated colonies. The land is largely given over to sugar cane cultivation, a purpose to which it is ideally suited. The island is about 166 miles in area. Highest point on it is 1,100 feet, sometimes called a mountain, but really a terrace of coral limestone. Although the island has no rivers or lakes, abundant water is supplied by rain and underground streams.

Victoria United In Smart Victory

Defeat New Westminster Royals 4 to 1 to Move Into Leadership of Inter-city Soccer League; Locals Led 2 to 1 at Half-time

Victoria United moved into undisputed possession of first place in the Inter-city Soccer League on Saturday afternoon at the Athletic Park by taking the measure of the New Westminster Royals 4 to 1. Playing on a slippery field and in a downpour the greater part of the time, the eleven put on a great exhibition under the conditions. Considering the weather the attendance was good.

As a result of their win the Victoria squad occupies the leadership by a two-point margin over the Royals, with whom they were tied up until Saturday, North Shore are in third position a single point behind New Westminster.

Play opened with Hon. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, kicking off the ball. The United had a good opening in the first few minutes when Morgan had a shot with Stronge, Royal's goalie, out of his net, but the inside left's attempt with the ball bouncing badly was wide.

Opening goal came after five minutes and put Victoria in the lead. McPherson, New Westminster right half, miskicked and George Payne sent in a cross from the right wing that John Watt drove into the net well out of Stronge's reach. The United continued the pressure and a neat passing movement between Barnes, Stewart and Watt resulted in the latter sending in a hard drive for the corner, but Stronge leaped to one side to push the ball around the post. Bell's corner was cleared by Turner.

Smallinski warmed up in the fifth round, floored Marsh and tore the tape from his hand and went to work on the Chicagoan. Then the young Pole picked Marsh up and slammed him down for the winning fall.

Smallinski's flashy young Pole, won his decision in the last round of his match with Tiger Joe Marsh of Chicago after two minutes and forty-five seconds.

Leathers took the first fall of his match in the third round with a figure four scissors but Preberg came back in the fourth to even matters with a body press.

The Texan came out of his corner in the fifth and went right to work on Preberg, elbowing him into quick submission and finishing him off with his flying head scissors.

Tiger Marsh gained the first fall in the third round after scoring his opponent with a mouthful of water. Continually pulling his taped hand across Smallinski's face, the "Tiger" Griffin was forced to concede Smallinski a fall.

TEXAN TAKES MAIN EVENT

Defeats Freberg With Flying Scissors on Local Wrestling Card

Gaining a fall in the third round of the main event on Saturday night's wrestling card at the Tillamook gym and following it up in the fifth with some effective elbow putting to take the odd fall, Sam "Legs" Leathers, cow puncher from Dallas, Texas, took care of John Freberg, veteran Chicagoan. Leathers weighed 216 pounds and Freberg 215.

Babe Smallinski, flashy young Pole, won his decision in the last round of his match with Tiger Joe Marsh of Chicago after two minutes and forty-five seconds.

Leathers took the first fall of his match in the third round with a figure four scissors but Preberg came back in the fourth to even matters with a body press.

The Texan came out of his corner in the fifth and went right to work on Preberg, elbowing him into quick submission and finishing him off with his flying head scissors.

Tiger Marsh gained the first fall in the third round after scoring his opponent with a mouthful of water. Continually pulling his taped hand across Smallinski's face, the "Tiger" Griffin was forced to concede Smallinski a fall.

DEMOLAY WIN BY ONE POINT

Score Thrilling 49 to 48 Victory Over Dominoes; Tillamook Victors

Playing before one of the largest crowds of the season, the Seattle Demolay cage stars handed the Victoria Dominoes, Canadian champions, their first setback of the season at the High School gym on Saturday evening by one point, 49 to 48. It was a sweet victory for the lodgemen and avenged their single point defeat here several weeks ago.

Roy Williams, centre star of the visitors, got the winning points with seconds to go when he came a long shot from centre. The Dominoes led 31 to 22 at half-time.

With their regulars working in smooth fashion, the Dominoes went to work on the visitors in the opening half and gradually built up a comfortable lead. Feature of the Victoria club's play in the opening period was the fine shooting play of Mottishaw, who got a lot of valuable ints. His total for the evening was ten.

Th: DeMolays clicked in great fashion as the second half got under way and despite the heroic efforts of the dominoes finally succeeded in tying, the score at 38 to 35, with Williams and Hughes getting majority of the points for the Seattle outfit.

The lead ceased back and forth, with the clubs even at 38-all. Peden gave the Dominoes the lead with a free shot and then left the floor on personals. Andrews got a much-needed two points, only to have Strelo connect for DeMolay. Two free throws by Chuck Chapman were good and the score was 43 to 40.

Chuck Chapman left the floor on four personals but was allowed to return by the visitors only to be banished again when a fifth foul was called on him.

With only minutes to go the Dominoes were out in front 46 to 42. A basket by Martin made it 48 to 42 and the game appeared sewed up. The DeMolay club rallied and a basket and free throw by Hughes gave them three points. A long shot by Murray was good and the count was 48 to 47 for the Dominoes. Then Williamson came through with his winning basket.

Williamson led the scorers for the evening with eighteen points, closely followed by Hughes with seventeen. Mottishaw was high for the Dominoes with ten.

The preliminary game the Tillamook defeated Hoyne-Brown 31 to 25 in the men's senior B division.

R. Macmurchie, T. Macedo and W. Stipe refereed.

The teams and scores follow:
DeMolays—Williamson (18), Johnston, Hughes (17), Shupack, Strelo (4), Murray (6) and Khile (4). Total, 49.

Dominoes—A. Chapman (6), Andrews (4), McKeachie (4), "Chuck" Chapman (9), Peden (5), Martin (6), Goldsmith (2), Kinnear (2) and Mottishaw (10). Total, 48.

Hoyne-Brown—Caddell (2), Campbell (6), Walker (11), Preston (2), Robertson (9), Tubman (3), Vout (2) and Price. Total, 25.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 20.—Denny Shute, veteran Chicago professional, added a three-under-par 39 Saturday to the like figure he had in the first round for 138, to take the $200 top-prize in the regular division of $1,500 tropic open golf tournament here yesterday.

Shute also capped first money, $250, in the "half stroke putt" category—an experiment designed to improve the emphasis from the green and place it on the tee and approach shots. His score, counting putts as half-strokes, was 115.

Scottish—Golgate, Speed, Anderson, Banks, Rockingham, Campbell Forbes, Johnny Forbes, Custance, Thompson, Fields, Ackland, Tye, Beckett, Peard and Campbell.

Garrison—Loveless, Buxton, Shore, Stewart, Patterson, Martin, Watson, Tesky, Hall, Wharton, Lee, Banks, Hatch, Rowton and Featherstone.

Doug Peden Star as Fifth Brigade Rugger Wins; Wanderers Gain Intermediate Victories Over College and Scottish

That certain something that has been lacking from the Fifth Brigade's senior rugby punch made its return on Saturday as just short of 200 pounds of Doug Peden gave the team a slippery 3 to 1 victory over the Navy at the Naval Recreation Grounds. At Oak Bay Park, where children could have sailed their boats, Garrison players clung to their slender chance of winning the second half by holding the Canadian Scottish to a 3 to 3 draw.

Peden scored an unconverted try and kicked a penalty goal as his team alighted over the sailors in a game which revealed very surprising flashes of backfield play in spite of the greasy ball and slippery pitch.

The Navy broke into the lead early in the game when Bill Smith opened up on a run from his own twenty-five and passed to Gockrell near the Gunners' line. Gockrell was covered for the sailors' lone try, which was unconverted.

Seven minutes later the artillerymen swung down and gained a scrum near the corner. Peden secured and went over to even the count.

Late in the half the Gunners missed a good chance to score on a free kick but maintained pressure until the interval.

The sailors forced down following the interval and missed a kick for the goal when the Gunners were checked for interference. The military men drove back and controlled most of the play for the remainder of the game, marked for the Navy by dogged defensive rallies.

Fleming made good ground on a broken field run well on in the half and the Gunners finally gained a kick almost in front of the Navy uprights. Peden placed the ball and converted to put his team in the lead.

"The sustained Gunners' drives, marked by flashes of good backfield play, finally counted again with Ken Fleming squirming through on a solo attack to circle behind the Navy line and put the ball down near the posts. The kick failed.

In spite of continued pressure the Fifth were unable to add to the score. Benny Macmillan refereed, and the teams lined up as follows: Navy—Booth, Arnot, Sweet, Stubbs, Hibbert, Smith, Freeman, Nelson, Corbin, Gockrell, Dallan, McRae, Hall, Paul and Sinclair.

Fifth Brigade—McFalls, Simpson, Fleming, Rowe, Copeland, Halkett, Stipe, Mair, deBlaquiere, Engstrom, Dorwell, Eastham, Johnson, Peden and Gaunt.

PLAY TO DRAW
Hatch's try late in the second half saved the Garrison from defeat at the hands of a dogged Scottish team at Oak Bay Park.

The Army, using a strong crossfield wind to advantage, dominated most of the first half and developed several smart backfield movements in spite of the unfavorable ground conditions.

Colgate, playing a dependable game as fullback for the highlanders, cleared nicely as the soldiers thrust into his territory on good attacks.

Martin, Garrison half, was feeding his backs well and opening up play as much as possible, but neither his teammates nor the Scottish could score in the first-half.

Following the rest interval the kilties used the wind to advantage to work into the Garrison ground on kicks and forward rushes. Ten minutes from the breather, Campbell Forbes dribbled the ball down to a scrum. Harry Peard crashed through the loose when the scrum broke to touch down for the first try. The kick failed.

EVEN COUNT
The wind slackened toward the middle of the second half and the Garrison, still playing a dry field game with their neat ball handling in the backfield, rallied for the tying score. Ken Buxton, wing three for Army, gathered in the ball from Martin and raced forty-five yards to bring the Garrison offensive within five yards of the Scottish goal line. In the subsequent scrum Hatch forged over with the ball at his feet. Featherstone's kick was wide.

C. E. Ley refereed, and the teams follow:
Scottish—Golgate, Speed, Anderson, Banks, Rockingham, Campbell Forbes, Johnny Forbes, Custance, Thompson, Fields, Ackland, Tye, Beckett, Peard and Campbell.

Garrison—Loveless, Buxton, Shore, Stewart, Patterson, Martin, Watson, Tesky, Hall, Wharton, Lee, Banks, Hatch, Rowton and Featherstone.

Two Searchers Thought Drunk

Man Stops Car, Sneezes And Out Pops His Teeth; Police
Summoned

At 12:55 o'clock yesterday morning city police received a telephone call from a resident near Fifth and Quadra Streets that two men were crawling around on their hands and knees at the intersection.

The person who gave the message feared they might be hit by a passing car, and urgently requested police assistance. The patrol was dispatched immediately.

On arrival at the scene police discovered the story was true to a point, but it appeared the difficulty was that a well known resident had stopped his car at the stop sign and sneezed. He hastily informed the officer he had lost his false teeth in the act and was merely looking for them, with the aid of a companion.

HANNAY TAKES HIS OWN CASE

Prisoner Presents Arguments
Before B.C. Appeal Court

George Hannay, who was sentenced, with W. Jones, at the December Assizes at Nanaimo to seven years imprisonment on a charge of breaking and entering into a Parkville store and stealing tobacco and groceries to the value of $14.50, acted as his own lawyer in the B.C. Court of Appeal this morning.

Hannay and Jones are appealing against the sentence.

Arthur Leighton is appearing for the crown to resist the appeal.

The Crown is also appealing against the acquittal of Hannay at the Nanaimo Assizes on a charge of being in possession of lubricating oil and grease stolen from the Union Oil Company of Nanaimo. Hannay acted as lawyer for himself and his fellow prisoner when the first mentioned case was called this morning.

"I am sorry to have to appear myself. It is on account of financial difficulties," he told the court.

He set forth his reasons for appealing as based on the address of Crown counsel to the jury, instructions to the jury and postponement of the sittings from time to time, which, he said, prevented him from having defence witnesses on hand that he would otherwise have been able to call.

He produced an affidavit which he and Jones had signed charging that Mr. Leighton Crown counsel had been unfair in his references to him as a criminal and to the prospects of other stores being broken into.

He was proceeding to read the affidavit when the point was raised that Crown counsel had not previously seen it.

The hearing was adjourned until Wednesday for Crown counsel to see the affidavit and to present other affidavits from people present at the Assizes Court to meet the accusations.

Hannay claimed that he could produce other affidavits besides those sworn to by himself and Jones from Nanaimo people.

He was informed that he could not at this stage of the case secure more affidavits.

The other appeal in which Hannay figured and acted as his own lawyer was in an appeal by the crown against his acquittal at the Nanaimo Assizes on charge of being in possession of keys, lubricating grease and gasoline, raising from the Union Oil Company's warehouse in Nanaimo.

Crown counsel claimed the trial judge, Mr. Justice Robertson, erred in rejecting evidence of several witnesses, which counsel claimed would have shown articles corresponding to those stolen were found on premises occupied by Hannay.

Argument opened Friday in the case of D. L. Swanney, who is appealing against a judgment of Judge Fisher in the Vancouver County Court of $359.40 special damages and $800 general damages in favor of a young girl, Betty Adele Redding, for injuries she sustained when she was struck down by defendant's automobile at an intersection.

The defence claims the child by her actions was responsible for the accident.

The judge ruled that the driver had an opportunity of observing the child at an intersection and should have anticipated what a child would do under the circumstances.

Alfred Bull, K.C., appears for the appellant and R. L. Maitland, K.C., for respondent.

A new trial was ordered Friday in the case of Wong Yip Lan and Lee Lun, Vancouver Chinese, who were acquitted by Judge A. M. Harper in the County Court on a charge of possessing opium.

R. L. Maitland, K.C., for the crown, appealed against the acquittal.

Walter S. Owen appeared for the Chinese.

EXTENSION ON OPTION ASKED

Moving Picture Outfit Seeks Longer Period to Take Up Lease

In a communication received at the City Hall to-day, W. T. Straith, solicitor for Isadore "Bud" Barsky and George Schneiderman, Hollywood picture men who sought a lease on the worsted mills in James Bay to produce films locally, has requested an extension of one month on his clients' option.

According to original plans, Mr. Barsky and Mr. Schneiderman were allowed until January 31 to take over the rental of the mill building from the city. The new application seeks to extend the time until February 29.

Mr. Barsky and Mr. Schneiderman, during their visit to the city to negotiate with the council on the matter, agreed to post a bond of $2,500 as a symbol of good faith before any alterations were made to the worsted mill site. That money has not yet been posted and the city will undertake no work other than that necessary to protect its investment, until the sum is forthcoming.

In his application for an extension of the option, Mr. Straith said his principals and himself had been busy trying to secure a ruling from the federal government on customs charges which would be levied against the equipment the Hollywood men proposed to bring to Victoria.

No definite result has been secured and the picture interests, represented by Mr. Straith, are asking further time in which to carry on negotiations.

Correspondence courses for men in the relief camps of British Columbia will be widened this year. Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, said to-day.

These include nineteen regular high school subjects which are under the direction of J. W. Gibson, director of high school instruction; nine technical and vocational subjects, and nine elementary subjects handled by Miss Isabel Besocky.

In the technical subjects new courses are offered in radio and diesel engineering.

This is the second year of the government's attempt to assist men in camps to improve their educational standing. Last year approximately 1,000 were enrolled but the courses were somewhat interrupted by the strike which extended throughout the camps.

Irregularity Marks To-day's Session On New York Exchange

Associated Press
New York, Jan. 20.—A few days of sunshine seeped through the stock market clouds to-day, but the list, as a whole, displayed few reviving tendencies.

Although some of the aircraft rallied, recent leaders fell back fractions to a point or more.

The close was irregular. Transfers approximated 1,900,000 shares.

Bullish forces appeared to derive some comfort from the fact that the activity dwindled appreciably on the recessionary movement.

News of a stimulating character was lacking and potential buyers seemed content to stand on the sidelines and wait for something to give equities a push in one direction or another.

Commodities were as listless as stocks. Grains and cotton were narrow generally. Bonds were mixed with various railings pointing lower. The dollar improved in foreign exchange dealings.

Shares of Douglas got up about 4 points. Gains of fractions to around 2 were shown by Boeing, Wright, Aeronautical, Curtiss-Wright, "A," American Woolen, Schenley, American Commercial Alcohol, Hiram Walker and Montgomery Ward. Greyhound Corp. firmed when its directors recommended a split-up in the stock.

Among the losers were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Western Union, Consolidated Gas, Du Pont, American Locomotive, General Electric, Deere and Glidden. The motors, mines and oils were about even to a shade easier.

SENIOR GOLDS, SILVERS GAIN

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 20.—A sluggish morning trade on the Toronto mining market developed a little steam in the afternoon, and gains appeared in the higher-bracketed golds and silvers. Base metal stocks were off narrowly.

Dome advanced 1/2 at 46. McIntyre and Wright Hargreaves added fractions. Loss of a point for Noranda.

A fraction for Hudson Bay and a few cents for Sherritt were casualties in base metals.

In the silvers, Nipissing gained five cents. Oils were quiet and easier.

When to Let a Man Alone

When to Let a Man Alone

THE THING THAT WOMEN NEED TO KNOW more than anything else in the world is when to leave a man alone. said a man to me the other day, "and to that fact I owe my bachelor freedom."

"When I was a young chap, I was very much in love with a beautiful and charming young woman and we should have been married if she had only let me alone, but she couldn't do it. Whenever we were together she was straightening my hair, or even plucking my eyebrows, or making some other gesture that indicated that I belonged to her, until I got so much on my nerves that I felt like screaming. If I started off somewhere by myself, she followed me. If I was out of her presence, I had to furnish an alibi for every moment of my time. I couldn't even sit down and read without her interrupting me every few moments."

"The prospect of undergoing a lifetime of such surveillance and of never having a vestige of personal freedom left to me was more than I could stand. So I made my escape from a situation that would have been intolerable to me."

Many other men must feel as I do, and I have no doubt that the reason there is such a large number of old maids is because women are totally lacking in a psychic sense when they are away from them. When it is safe to paw him and when he is as dangerous to caress as a sore-headed bear.

"For with men the best way to promote love is to give it the absent treatment. When a man is away from a woman and can do as he pleases, his imagination wreathes a halo round her and endows her with every desirable charm and grace. But when he is with her and she keeps an eye on him as constantly as a careful mother does on a morose little boy, supervises his diet and his wardrobe, his comings-in and goings-out—why, that is something else yet again, and few men enjoy it."

"Not only does women's inability to let men alone make men bridle-shy, but it is what, after they are securely roped and tied, keeps them straining at their bonds and tempts them to break them in search of the liberty they have lost. They just want to be free to take a little canter without feeling wife on their backs holding the reins and guiding them."

"And women not knowing when to let a man alone is at the bottom of half of wives' grievances against their husbands. The two standard complaints of the women who wall and weep, beat upon their breasts and bemoan themselves as neglected wives are that their husbands take them for granted, and that they are not chatty fire-side companions. They will admit that their husbands are good, kind and generous, and provide them with nice homes on charge accounts at the best stores, but these are dust and ashes in their teeth because their husbands never pay them compliments, or make passionate love to them, or do anything but sit up as dumb as store dummies all evening."

Apparently it never occurs to these women that they defeat their own ends when they try to force a man who is temperamentally unsentimental, and who is tired and worn with a hard day's work, to put on a romantic love scene as soon as he gets home of an evening. All he wants is to be let alone until he is rested and fed. If his wife had sense enough to do that she might get some of the jolting she craves and a kiss that wasn't as cold and flabby as a dead fish slapped across her cheek. Also, husband might be glad to talk and be an entertaining companion if wife didn't clamp his teeth shut by putting him through a questionnaire about everything he has done during the day, every one he has seen, what they said and what he said.

"And aren't most family quarrels the result of the wife never being willing to let her husband alone? Haven't you known wives who never let their husbands smoke in peace? Don't you know plenty of wives who spoil every meal by criticizing their husbands' table manners, or nagging them about drinking two cups of coffee or eating too much butter? Don't you know wives who always tag along when their husbands go places and who never sense that a man likes to get off by himself or with other men sometimes? Why, I know plenty of men who have to tell enough lies to damn their immortal souls just to get a night off every two or three years."

And that is why I say that the young women need to know more than anything else in the world is when to let a man alone.

Uncle Wiggily's Wireless Message

By HOWARD E. GARIS

One day Buster, the boy rabbit, waited until his father had finished reading the morning paper and then Buster asked:

"Daddy, you give me some money, please."

"Why, Buster, yes, of course," said Uncle Wiggily. "Here's a penny for you."

"Oh, Daddy, I want more than a penny, if you please," said Buster. "I want a whole lot of money."

"How much?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Enough to buy a wireless set," said Buster.

"Do you mean a radio?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "We have a radio now, and a very good one."

"Oh, no, Daddy," Buster answered. "I want a wireless set, so I can send messages to Sammie Little and Billie Wagtail and all the boys. They're going to get receiving sets and when we can't go out and play in the snow we're going to send messages back and forth to each other's house. I want a wireless set."

"I'm afraid I wouldn't have enough money, Buster," said Uncle Wiggily. "Then, when he saw how disappointed the little rabbit boy looked, Mr. Longears said:

"But perhaps I can help you make a wireless set, Buster."

"Oh, it would be fine if you could do that, Daddy," said Buster. "I'll hop down to the store for you and buy the batteries and the tubes, and the condenser and things like that."

"We shan't need any of those things, Buster," said the rabbit gentleman. "The wireless set I'm going to make for you is very simple. It is one of the oldest wireless sets in the world. All I need is your drum and drumsticks that you got for Christmas."

"Oh, Daddy, how can you make a wireless set out of a drum?" asked Buster and he twinkled his little pink nose at his father.

"The drum is one of the oldest wireless sets in the world," said Mr. Longears. "Of course it cannot send messages as far as the regular wireless sets, but it will do nicely for you, as your friends don't live so far away. You can send them messages by tapping out beats of your drum and they can answer by tapping their drums. Come on and I'll show you what I mean."

At first Buster was a little disappointed again, but he was more interested when his father told him that the Indians formerly used drums to give wireless signals to one another many years ago.

"The natives in the jungle, boom out signals on drums made out of big hollow trees," said Mr. Longears. "The booming sound of those big tree drums can be heard for many miles."

"Then I guess I'm going to like my drum wireless set," said Buster. "Please start it, Daddy, and I'll go tell the fellows and we'll send messages. It will be fun."

Blunt Diplomatic Hint Given to Mussolini to Have Fliers Avoid Hitting Unit From United Kingdom Now at Dessye, Ethiopia; Italians Informed of Exact Location of Hospital.

By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer.
London, Jan. 20.—Great Britain has given a diplomatically blunt hint to Premier Mussolini that there is to be no bombing of British Red Cross units in Ethiopia, it was learned to-day.

Maurice Ingram, British Charge d'Affaires at Rome, called on Fulvio Suvich, Italian Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, and politely drew his attention to the exact location of the British Red Cross unit which reached Dessye last week.

PLAN FAVORED BY DISTRICTS

Returns on Union Library Votes Show Most Communities in Accord

While votes from some of the larger areas are still to be recorded, returns received by the Provincial Secretary's department to-day showed that a majority of the school districts on Vancouver Island, in Okanagan and West Kootenay have gone on record in favor of union library schemes.

The votes have yet to be analyzed, however, to determine if sufficient districts to represent a population of 24,000 in each area are favorable. Returns from forty out of the forty-six communities on Vancouver Island have been made. They show thirty-three districts in favor and seven against. Latest reports are: Sylva, for 12, against 17; Beaver Creek, for 17, against 5. Out of forty-five districts voting in West Kootenay, thirty-two have reported, showing twenty-eight in favor and four against. In the Okanagan sixty-two districts are voting. Out of forty-four that have sent in returns only two are opposed.

Committee of Thirteen Decides Sending of Commission to Front and Financial Aid Are Outside Powers

The first official British unit was to have gone to the Ogaden front, under command of Dr. Melley. At the request of Emperor Haile Selassie, however, it was transferred to Dessye, northern headquarters of the Ethiopian troops.

Mr. Ingram called on Signor Suvich Saturday and informed him of the changed location, "in order that there may be no misunderstanding."

Mr. Ingram explained the information was being given by the Italian Government in case it was not already known to the military authorities in East Africa, and in the belief they would be glad to know "in the light of recent occurrences" the unit's exact position.

Undersecretary Suvich is stated to have "taken note" of the information.

The United States mission hospital bombed by Italian planes recently is also located at Dessye.

Bombing of the Swedish Red Cross unit at Dolo on the southern front has already led to an interchange of notes between the governments of Sweden and Italy, while Emperor Haile Selassie and the International Red Cross have forwarded protests to the League of Nations.

The committee decided sanctions were entirely a matter for the Committee of Eighteen, appointed for that particular purpose.

DISCUSS PLAN FOR JUBILEE

Celebration to Mark Victoria's Seventy-fifth Birthday in 1937

Plans for a big celebration of Victoria's diamond jubilee next year were discussed by Acting Mayor F. R. Brown and Alderman Walter Luney at the City Hall to-day.

On August 2, 1937, the city will have achieved its seventy-fifth year since incorporation. Taking the lead from Vancouver's ambitious golden jubilee plan, the city might institute a fête period for two weeks or more, using as the centre of attraction the annual fair which would have to be advanced considerably if it took in the jubilee period. Special attractions would be brought to the city to heighten the festivities and other functions, such as the usual celebration of Victoria Day would probably be carried out on a more modest scale with the jubilee programme attaining the greater brilliance.

Discussion on the proposal arose from consideration of a beautiful poster, which Vancouver intends to send to the 3,000 Shrine Temples on the continent inviting them to visit Vancouver following the Shrine gathering in Seattle. A section advertising Victoria will be included in the richly-colored and illustrated folder from the mainland as the result of action taken by Alderman Luney.

Death of King George V Announced to World; Great Efforts Put Forth by Physicians, But Monarch, Seventy Years of Age, Unable to Rally.

Sandringham, Eng., Jan. 20.—King George V died to-night. The death was officially announced at Sandringham House.

Associated Press

Sandringham, Eng., Jan. 20.—The three physicians of King George in an official bulletin to-night said "The King's life is moving peacefully toward its close."

Canadian Press

Sandringham, Eng., Jan. 20.—Oxygen was administered to the sinking King George V to-day and his physicians announced his strength was "diminishing."

It was at least the second time oxygen was known to have been given the King since Friday. Every effort was being made to conserve the monarch's strength. Even the visits of Queen Mary and other members of the family to his bedside have been kept as short as possible.

The royal duties were taken over some time before the physicians' announcement by a Council of State appointed with King George's knowledge. Queen Mary and the four royal sons comprise the Council.

A bulletin signed by three physicians announced at 5.30 p.m. "the condition of the King shows diminishing strength."

CROWD AT GATES

The bulletin at 5.30 p.m. to-day was the first since Saturday afternoon to report the King was losing strength.

The announcement was posted on the Jubilee Gate at Sandringham House, where crowds clustered tightly to read the words.

The news soon spread into the village of Sandringham. Many of the townspeople walked up the hill to gather at the gates of the King's residence to await further information.

This morning's bulletin, issued at 4.45 a.m., said:

"The King has had a more restful night. There is no substantial change to record in His Majesty's condition."

It was learned authoritatively he had slept several hours during the night.

PRIVY COUNCIL MEETS

The sovereign's Privy Council, summoned from London, met in an apartment adjoining the royal sick room and appointed the counsellors of state while the seventy-year-old King entered a possibly decisive stage of his sickness.

The sun finally broke through the storm clouds late in the morning, shining intermittently in welcome relief from the former dreary weather as the rains halted.

The Prince of Wales and the Duke of York, meanwhile, took off from the Prince's private airbase at Windsor for Sandringham.

HEARD BY KING

Appointment of the Council of State followed a special meeting of the Privy Council in the sitting room adjoining the King's chamber.

In accordance with constitutional procedure, the door between the sitting room and the sick room was open with a member of the Council standing at the portal so the monarch was able to hear the voice of the conferees in the next room.

At the end of the brief session, Lord Dawson of Penn, physician in ordinary to the King, himself a member of the Council, took the state paper to the bedside, gave the sovereign a pen, and stood silently while the royal signature was written.

The paper bearing the signature, "George, R.I.," then was handed to Sir Maurice Hankey, clerk of the Council, who was charged with taking it to London.

OTHER PLANES BARBED

With the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York choosing a plane to journey to York, the King's estate, the Air Ministry was understood to be preparing an order banning other airplane flights within a four-mile radius of Sandringham House.

TIED HAND AND FOOT

"The country is tied hand and foot by this commission," Mr. Roebuck said. There was nothing preventing approval of a price agreement involving criminal aspects, yet there could be no criminal prosecution unless the commission consented. Only another act of Parliament could surmount this lack of consent.

port on a proposed price in a production agreement, there could be no appeal, Mr. Roebuck said. There was no publicity about it or anything connected with it.

DOMINION ARGUMENT

Validity of the statute establishing a trade and industry commission was upheld by Louis Saint Laurent, Montreal, who presented the Dominion's case. He claimed the commission was founded constitutionally on Parliament's exclusive jurisdiction over the Criminal Code and trade and commerce.

Among other provisions, the act created "Canada Standard," a national trade mark, and laid down conditions governing its use. When the Dominion counsel attempted to justify these provisions by Parliament's control of the Criminal Code. Chief Justice Duff and Mr. Justice Rinfret attacked his arguments. Elimination of fraud through use of the national trade mark, the Chief Justice said, looked to him like regulation outside the code.

BENEFITS SEEN

Use of a national trade mark was obviously beneficial, the Chief Justice observed. The opposition of the provinces to the provisions of the act was prompted by jealousy of the constitutional principles involved and not by opposition to the terms of the statute.

day in the Poets' Corner. The Very Rev. William Morris, Dean of Westminster, announced the service had been arranged for noon.

The family had announced the body would be cremated.

TRIBUTE PAID

The London Times said in an editorial: "Burial in the Poets' Corner of Westminster Abbey is a high honor, but not too high an honor for one of the most influential personalities of the time and a unique figure in English literature."

"For nearly half a century his name was a household word and among thousands of men not otherwise greatly devoted to literature, Kipling stood for literature itself."

"So far as one man can, Kipling took all experience and all theory into his survey, not passively storing but actively exploiting them, and this constant exploitation caused his influence to radiate in other ways than through his books. It is this which creates at his death an exceptional sense of regret and deprivation."

OF JOURNALISTIC TYPE

"Notwithstanding his immense popularity as a writer, it would be idle to pretend he was always to the taste of those impelled to read him. To dismiss him as a journalist of even the most versatile and inspired kind would be singularly shortsighted, though much that he wrote was journalism, and journalism moreover that once or twice failed to understand the national mind which it sought to interpret."

"Though from the sum total of Kipling's writings a few may drop out, it will be long before oblivion overtakes the best of them, if only because they were composed at a crucial period in the history of the race and because no others have the same vitality put beside them."

VANCOUVER PROPERTY

Vancouver, Jan. 20.—The late Rudyard Kipling was a taxpayer of Vancouver for forty years, from the time of his visit here in 1889 until 1928.

He purchased two lots in Mount Pleasant, held them through all the ups and downs of Vancouver real estate and then sold them without explanation eight years ago.

Heavy snows and rain in some southern states brought a new menace from floods and rivers and streams rose sharply.

Several ships were in distress. The Ss. City of Camden went aground near Pennington, N.J., but its seventy passengers were brought ashore safely. Another steamship, the Ss. Ipswich, reported aground near Panama City, Fla., and believed to have been wrecked.

A last-minute surprise was sprung in Oak Bay, where unexpectedly there had been a dearth of candidates. Ray P. Castle and Percy Vernon-Jackson were the new aspirants, the latter seeking the one-year-by-election term created by the resignation of Councilor R. R. Taylor. Mr. Castle is standing for the regular two-year term and in this field are J. V. Johnson, W. L. Woodhouse and F. A. Gibbs. Mr. Gibbs was another last-minute entry.

Reeve Crouch will go back as reeve of Saanich for his tenth year. In Ward Three, Five and Six, Councilors A. G. Lambriek, H. D. Cotton and L. C. Hagan were returned by acclamation. The rural election will be the quietest in years.

In appreciation of the honor of being returned unopposed, Reeve Crouch issued the following statement to-day before sailing for Vancouver:

"My sincere thanks to the people of Saanich who have allowed me to be returned by acclamation as their reeve for the tenth successive term. 'I have always received a great deal of consideration and kindness at the hands of the taxpayers, and I can assure you I am grateful and shall try to the best of my ability during 1936 to retain that confidence. 'I am sorry to say that the work of municipal administration does not grow any easier as the years go by, but I am very careful and efficient planning for us to carry through without increasing tax burdens. 'I regret that I will not be speaking at the Saanich election meetings owing to the fact that the Union of British Columbia Municipalities appointed me as their representative on the provincial tuberculosis control committee, and toward the end of 1935 this committee appointed me chairman of a smaller committee to write a detailed report on institutional expenditure versus home expenditure, responsibility for expenditure, municipal relief, provincial relief, mothers' pensions, S.C.R., Dominion government, etc., and voluntary agencies."

"I was so busy during December with the Christmas Hamper Fund and the work of our financial year, that it was impossible to give it any time, but now as I am being pressed for this report, I shall be in Vancouver conferring with my committee and gathering data for the same. Let me further say that this is a voluntary committee and there is no pay for same."

"I will be returning on Friday and expect to speak to the ratepayers over the air on Friday, January 24, at 7:45 o'clock."

"I would not like to close this brief message without paying tribute to the members of my council, many of whom have been with me for several years. Without their aid and co-operation it would have been impossible to keep tabs where they are to-day and for Saanich to be in the splendid financial position in which she is. Reeve-elect Taylor said he would make every attempt to carry on the administration in Oak Bay in the conservative manner which has marked the attitude of former councils. The ratepayers would be given first consideration, he said, and during his regime he would not be responsible for any radical departure from former policies."

NEW HAUPTMANN CASE EVIDENCE

Data on "J. J. Faulkner" Turned Over to New Jersey Police; Case May Become Political Football

Associated Press
New York, Jan. 20.—The Bronx district attorney's office disclosed to-day that it has turned over to the New Jersey state police the signature of and data on a "J. J. Faulkner" who disappeared mysteriously many months ago.

"J. J. Faulkner" was the name signed to a credit slip in exchanging $2,980 of the Lindbergh ransom money at the Federal Reserve Bank in New York.

The district attorney, Samuel J. Foley, refused to comment further on the matter.

William Foley, chief claims agent of the Third Avenue Railway, said, however, that a J. J. Faulkner was employed by the company as carpenter and disappeared during the summer of 1934 or 1935.

"Had a couple of pay checks coming to him," Foley said, "and he did not even bother to cash them when he dropped from sight."

"A few days ago I went over specimen of the man's handwriting and they looked a lot like those of J. J. Faulkner of the Lindbergh case."

By DALE HARRISON
Associated Press Staff Writer
Trenton, N.J., Jan. 20.—If the Lindbergh murder case is to become a political football, there will be opportunity to-night for the kickoff.

The New Jersey Legislature, Republican-controlled but possessed of a lively Democratic minority, will meet for the first time since Governor Harold G. Hoffman granted Bruno Richard Hauptmann a thirty-day reprieve, and for the first time since an "Impeach Hoffman" demand was published in Trenton newspapers.

As the days of Hauptmann's reprieve from the electric chair passed, Attorney-General David T. Wilentz, Hauptmann's court-appointed counsel, prepared for his annual trip to Florida. He plans to return before the reprieve expires.

M. ROSENER SOUGHT
The Governor has reported to be interested in Morris Rosner, one of the intermediaries drafted by Col. Lindbergh early in the case. He wants to know if Rosner or any other outsiders had a chance to inspect the original ransom note with its identifying symbol, before the subsequent notes were received.

There was a flurry of new interest in "J. J. Faulkner," with reports that his identity had been established and his arrest sought.

DEFENCE COUNSEL BEST
C. Lloyd Fisher, chief defence counsel, said the defence was "doing nothing just now."

Attorney-General Wilentz and Col. Norman Schwarzkopf, state police chief, conferred Saturday and were understood to have agreed that "no good purpose would be served by controversy with the Governor on his theories of points of view."

James Erick, agent, 878 Craigflower Road; proposed by G. E. Xton Lloyd, seconded by G. S. McTavish. Alexander Lockie, contractor, 1888 Esquimalt Road; proposed by Ivor Thomas, seconded by L. F. Hall.

Firearm Spends Basy Day Off
Charleston, S.C., Jan. 20.—Peter Mandel, veteran fire department member, spent a busy day. First he went to a neighbor's house to help put out a blaze. Then the wind tipped off the corrugated roof of his own house, sparks set the attic flame, and Mandel went home to work on his own fire. When it got hot and he called the department and with his associates succeeded in halting the blaze under control.

Ethiopians Move on Towns

Report Italians in Makale and Aksum Almost Surrounded Now

By ALBERT L. WILSON
Associated Press Correspondent
Addis Ababa, Jan. 20.—A high government source told the Associated Press to-day both Makale and Aksum, key points of the Italian northern front, were virtually surrounded by thousands of Ethiopian troops.

Unconfirmed reports said the holy city of Aksum, occupied by the Fascist invaders early in the three and a half months' campaign, was already partly retaken.

The sacred city, western point of the first northern front, the Italians established before advancing to Makale, stretches out over an area of several miles.

REBELS DEFEATED
A communique announced that the rebels of Gollam province, under Dedematch Gassau, had been defeated in a battle two miles from Deba Markos.

"Many rebels were slain and half of them taken prisoners," said the communique, "but Gassau escaped with two servants."

Associated Press
Rome, Jan. 20.—Marshal Pietro Badoglio, commander of the Italian forces in Ethiopia, reported to the government to-day that Italian forces on the southern front were encountering disorganized Ethiopian forces.

His communique said: "Ras Desta's troops, beaten at Ganale Dorya, are relentlessly pursued by our troops. 'General Graziani's columns entered the Galla-Borra tribal territory and on January 15 occupied Filta, 230 kilometres from Dolo, overcoming enemy groups attempting resistance. The pursuit continues."

"Along the caravan road, our troops met fleeing columns in extremely poor condition, which surrendered to them, imploring water and food on account of the absolute disorganization of the enemy."

DOUGAN BAGS
BIG COUGAR
Shawnigan Lake, Jan. 20.—Jim Dougan of Cobble Hill and his cougar dog "Dougan" trailed a seven-foot cougar over the week-end at Kookalah River. After several hours tramping through the woods the dog treed the cougar and Mr. Dougan killed it with his rifle.

SAMOA SWEEP BY BIG STORM

Motorboat Sinks; Four
Sailors Saved

Canadian Press Cable via Reuters.
Wellington, N.Z., Jan. 20.—Storms
swept the islands of Samoa over the week-end, taking sixteen lives and destroying three-quarters of the banana
crop.

A motorboat which left Apia with
sixteen passengers and a crew of four to connect with the liner Monterey at Pago Pago was overtaken by the gale
and sank about fifteen miles from Aleipata.

The captain and three others reached Aleipata in a dinghy. The sixteen drowned were all Samoans.

The storm played havoc with the Samoa banana crop, 75 per cent of which is reported to have been lost.

Prayers For King's Recovery Offered

Special Petitions Offered
Yesterday; All People
Share Anxiety, Says
Premier King

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 20.—In hundreds of churches throughout Canada
yesterday, voices were raised in prayer for the recovery of King
George, gravely ill at Sandring-
ham. At many services "God
Save the King," the National Anthem, was sung with special fervor.

At Saint John, N.B., Most Rev. J.
A. Richardson, Archbishop of the Anglican diocese of Fredericton, spoke of the great anxiety caused by His Majesty's illness.

"The whole empire stands under
the shadow of a great fear," said the Archbishop. "The King whom we
love and honor is critically ill. . .
The issues of life and death are in the hands of God."

As sharp, icy winds swept the Prairie Provinces, special prayers of intercession were said in Winnipeg,
Regina, Saskatoon and other cities.
In the milder climate of British Columbia, people likewise prayed for his recovery.

In Toronto and Montreal, while no
special services were held, prayers for the King's recovery were offered in all churches. Throughout the provinces of Ontario and Quebec and in Nova Scotia the people joined in prayer for the King.

In Ottawa Prime Minister King
said Canada was sharing in the fullest measure the anxiety of the United
King George.

"One might almost say," the Premier stated, "that there is not a church,
not a home in the Dominion in which the prayers of the people have not been offered for the King, and in which the anxieties of the Queen,
and other members of the Royal family, have not also been remembered."

In some churches yesterday the latest available bulletins on the condition of the King were read to the congregations.

Dispatches told how in Australia
and South Africa, bathed in summer's heat, and in the United Kingdom itself, gripped by a wintry cold
wave, and everywhere else in the empire, prayers were offered and millions
inquired for word from Sandringham.

At Westminster Abbey in London
yesterday a silence of one minute was observed during the morning service
and the same custom was followed
in a number of other places. In city
cathedrals and in humble country
churches throughout Britain similar prayers were offered.

In Sandringham itself, there was a constant vigil maintained at the gates of the royal estate by some or other of the inhabitants, waiting to read the latest bulletin.

The concern for the King's condition extended beyond the limits of the empire.

D. Van Vlack On Trial in Idaho

Young Man Before Jury on Charge of Killing Ex-wife

Twin Falls, Idaho, Jan. 20.—
Douglas Van Vlack, who fled from Tacoma two months ago with his pretty young ex-wife, Mildred Hook,
went on trial in district court here
to-day for murder.

Van Vlack was charged also with the murder of Pont "Z," oper, state traffic officer who halted the pair
near Buhl, Idaho, in their flight from Tacoma to find happiness, an hour later, somewhere in the west.

District Sheriff Henry C. Owens, who was with Cooper, also was shot
and died several days later.

"I told her before I took her that if he didn't leave us alone I'd kill her," Van Vlack declared in a statement to an Associated Press reporter after the bullet-pierced body
of his twenty-two-year-old former wife had been discovered in a railroad cuivert near here three days after the officers were shot.

Previously he had admitted the shooting to Sheriff E. P. Prater and two other officers, but he declined to swear to a formal confession after it had been drawn up.

In his account of the flight and
the killings that attended it, Van Vlack told of abducting Miss Hook,
who had obtained an interlocutory
divorce from him a short time before,
on a Tacoma street the night of November 23 and forcing her to accompany him.

TWO TRUCK MEN KILLED BY TRAIN
Belleville, Ont., Jan. 20.—Two Toronto truck drivers, Bill Devine and
Sam Doyle, were killed at Cemetery
Crossing, two miles west of here, early
to-day, when their truck was struck by a Canadian Pacific train.

The men were driving the truck
with two trailers belonging to the Loblaw-Groceries Co. Ltd., of Toronto. Doyle was at the wheel. Both men were killed instantly.

The wig-wag signals at the crossing were working, and the engineer,
W. Ranton of Smith Falls, blew his whistle as his train neared the crossing at 4:38 a.m.

speedy recovery were received from Chancellor Hitler of Germany, from Emperor of Japan, and from many other heads of nations. King Victor
Emmanuel of Italy through Dino
Grandi, Ambassador at London, made
special inquiries.

Prayers were offered in many churches in the United States yester-

FIVE KILLED IN TRAIN COLLISION

Canadian Press
London, Jan. 20.—Five plate-loaders were killed and seven injured yesterday when two engines smashed into a ballast train near Grantham, Lincolnshire.

All the victims were Grantham men, traveling by the ballast train
to begin maintenance work along
the line. They rode in the last car,
which was destroyed by the impact of
two light engines coupled together.

MAN BEATEN; STILL SEIZED

Canadian Press
Orangeville, Ont., Jan. 20.—Town
police hurried to a farm near here in reply to an emergency call Saturday
evening and found big "Bob" Cook, colorful figure of this district, hog-tied with clothesline, his eyes blackened, his nose, lips and ears puffed out, his face and body bruised and lacerated.

Police investigated and then
charged Cook with aggravated assault.
Cook told the police, they said, that he was having a fist fight with Jeff
Smith when a third man, John Way, came to Smith's assistance. They bound Cook and in the process he suffered his injuries. Cook is more than sixty years old and more than six feet tall.

Returning to Cook's farm yesterday
police claim they found, in a dugout
near the house, a liquor still capable
of turning out twenty-five gallons a
day. They say they also found two
Whisky."

Declares Kipling Outlived Powers

Canadian Press
Manchester, Eng., Jan. 20.—In an editorial tribute to Rudyard Kipling,
The Manchester Guardian said he
"like one of his own literary models,
had long outlived the prime of his
remarkable powers."

"He had suffered the penalty of those who gain an extraordinary early success," the paper said. "Many of his moral and intellectual valuations
were conventional. He seemed sometimes to suffer the broodings of a soured party politician. Hence the false notes that marred and wronged
his genius—even these could not hide
it."

"It is some years since Kipling
made himself a voice in a literature
of unchastened national complacency
and at long intervals he seemed, as
in the famous 'Recessional,' to feel faint misgivings about the great orgy of national egotism."

"Future generations will read him
in selections, as we read Goldsmith."

TREASURY SUED FOR $4,000,000

Canadian Liquor Firms Claim
Sales Tax Collected Illegally on Beverages Exported While U.S. Dry

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—Liquor taxes involving $4,000,000 will be affected by
an action launched against the Federal Treasury by Dominion Distillery Products, Montreal, to be heard by the Exchequer Court next Thursday. It dates back to the days
when export clearances were granted
and the United States was dry under
the Volstead Act.

The Montreal company seeks refund of sales and excise tax totalling
$1,470,938. A similar action by W.
George Ltd., Montreal, seeks $1,200,000,
but no date has been set for hearing.

Officials of the Justice Department
expect the British-American Brewery
will sue for $1,000,000 and the 000, but no date has been set for the Dominion case is upheld.

In the early days of the Volstead
Act, Canada granted export clear-
ances to liquor vessels although it was apparent the liquor was being landed in United States territory.
The Dominion Distillery paid sales
and excise tax of $9 a gallon on exported liquor and now submits it
was collected illegally.

Several years ago the Carling
Brewery of London, Ont., obtained a judgment from the Privy Council in London which ruled the Dominion
did not have power to collect taxes
on exported liquor. The Dominion case and others to follow are based on that judgment.

INFLUENZA IS WIDESPREAD

Twelve Dead, Thousands Ill
in Manitoba and Ontario

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Jan. 20.—Influenza is sweeping Manitoba and Northwestern
Ontario. Already at least twelve lives
have been lost in this province—eight
in Winnipeg alone—and thousands of persons are ill of the disease.

Health authorities in Winnipeg
said at the week-end the epidemic
was widespread, but not as serious
as that in 1919 which took so many lives in its world-wide sweep. Cases have only been dangerous where pneumonia or other complications
set in, they said.

From north of Kenora, Ont., 150
miles east of here, come reports of hundreds of Indians being stricken.
At one reserve last week two Indian affairs department officials found
every resident ill. The settlement was unable to cook food for several days until the officials took charge.
Four native children died at Carlisle, Man., said Rev. L. F. Rowe, missionary in the district. Medical supplies have been sent out from Churchill.

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—Officials of the Indian Affairs Department to-day
were awaiting a report from Indian agents of an influenza epidemic
which was said to be sweeping
through Indian settlements over a wide area north of Kenora.

Until it arrives, departmental officials could not give any information regarding the reported spread of "flu
among Indians.

PREPARING NOW FOR OTTAWA SESSION

Scotland Yard Inspector in U.S.

Arthur Bishop Tells Reporters at Washington Rackets Cannot Develop
in Britain

Associated Press
Washington, Jan. 20.—Inspector
Arthur Bishop of Scotland Yard told reporters here that kidnappings, rackets and gang crimes "could not happen in England."

He avoided talk of the Lindbergh case, but defended the death penalty
for violent crimes.

"Men show they have no right to live when they do certain things,"
the inspector declared.

Dressed in a grey morning coat and
black trousers, the man from the famous "C.I.D." met reporters in the office of Chief Post Office Inspector Kildroy Aldrich. Bishop came to the United States at the week-end to testify in the "Drake estate swindle"
case in Chicago.

The first question drew a quick
reply.

"I can tell you that," he replied.
"There is no kidnapping in England."

"Persistence is the secret of the Yard's success," he said.

"That and the co-operation of the public. But I think persistence is the real answer. We don't leave a case until we have got the fellow who did
it."

"In England, when a man commits a crime, he knows he is in for
it. In England, too, there is none of this bludgeoning a fellow."

A reporter asked if he meant the
"third degree."

"Yes," he replied. "When we go on a case, we enter places as gentlemen,
and we get the information we want.
"England has not really any big crime problem."

"Why? Because they're more or less dealt with, I suppose. We don't have any serious criminal gangs. Oh, there was a bunch once who were doing some things with razors, but we cleaned them up."

"In America, you leave your criminals stewing in their juices for a year or two. In England, crime is unequivocally dealt with. When we
in the courts."

MAN DROWNED
WHEN ICE BREAKS

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Jan. 20.—Holger Stromberg, thirty-one, of Winnipeg, was drowned in Lake Winnipeg when a four-ton tractor he was driving broke through the ice, related reports received here said.

Stromberg, with his brother, Oregor, twenty; his brother-in-law, R. Sundberg, and six other fishermen, was moving in equipment for fishing in the Sandy Island district last Tuesday when the accident occurred.

Eleven outfits had been moved to the scene by the Stromberg brothers
with their crawler tractor and they were handling the last outfit when
the ice cracked and the tractor, carrying the elder Stromberg with it, plunged into sixty feet of water. The body has not been recovered but a search is being made at the scene.
150 miles north of here.

Stromberg was married two years
ago and is survived by the widow
and a daughter.

Government Busy With De- tails of Measures to Be Laid Before Parliament Following Opening Feb. 6

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 20.—Intensive preparation for the opening of Parliament on February 6, will mark the present week in Ottawa. One of the big problems facing the government is unemployment relief and the Department of Labor, under Hon. N.
McC. Rogers, will endeavor to have ready a Parliament a reclassification
of these persons receiving direct relief in the expectation it will enable the Commons and the Senate to become better informed on the needs of the situation. His survey will also provide data for the proposed national commission on employment
and relief.

The Supreme Court will continue its hearings on the references as to the constitutionality of the social and economic legislation passed at the last two sessions. In the following week
a conference of law officers of the provincial governments and the federal Department of Justice will study
methods of amending the British North America Act. The conference has been called by Hon. Ernest Lapointe.

The cabinet will grapple this week
with a heavy legislative programme
while Finance Minister Charles A.
Dunning is busy with budget making.
The minister has interviewed numerous delegations and received hundreds of communications offering suggestions and requests for special tariff action.

While budget details are always kept strictly secret, the usual speculation has opened and the general belief seems to be the government will go slowly in carrying out promised lowering of the tariff structure.

ENTER LIKE GENTLEMEN
"Yes," he replied. "When we go on a case, we enter places as gentlemen,
and we get the information we want.
"England has not really any big
crime problem."

"Why? Because they're more or less dealt with, I suppose. We don't have

WIDOWS' CLUB HEAD ARRESTED

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 20.—Mrs. Nellie Brooke Stull of Elyria, Ohio, National President of the Widows and Widowers' Club, and one of her associates, Rawleigh Allen of Nashville, Tenn., were arrested here yesterday and held without bail on charges of conspiracy to defraud several of Toronto's lonely hearts.

Mrs. Stull and Allen arrived here last Tuesday and the former, in interviews with reporters, told of her plans to expedite the work of Dun Cupid, Inc. by bringing lonely persons, particularly widows and widowers together. Mrs. Stull talked freely of some of the wealthy catches she had on her list.

GIVES RECIPE FOR HAGGIS

New York Scot Waxes Enthusiastic; Tells Press How to Make It

Canadian Press
New York, Jan. 20.—Scots who have yearned in vain for a plate of haggis, "war-pot," rich in this metropolis of endless restaurants, felt the rays of confidence shining on the recipe and a tribute to haggis running almost a column in the New York Times. An inquisitive reporter mentioned the famous Scottish treat to Duncan McInnes, the seventy-four-year-old first deputy comptroller of the city's finances, and he talked on and on of nothing but the dish.

Matthay Principles To Be Demonstrated

The interest of the musical world and particularly the portion devoted to that basic instrument, the piano, has long been turned toward London and a school of pianoforte playing, founded by and named for that greatest of living teachers, Tobias Matthay. And not only does the school in England bear his name, but there exists also, an association in the United States named for him and whose primary object is to further his principles on this continent.

On Wednesday, January 29, at the Shrine Hall, interested members of the public will be given an opportunity to hear these principles demonstrated by pianoforte pupils of Stanley Shale, A.R.A.M., who has himself been a scholarship student of Tobias Matthay and has been made an active member of the American Matthay Association. Much that is rich and beautiful in musical literature will be heard and in addition, students from the vocal and elocution departments of the academy will appear. Tickets, at a nominal sum, may be obtained at Fletcher Bros. or the Willis Piano Company.

Canadian Dietetic Association.—A meeting of the Victoria Branch of the Canadian Dietetic Association will be held on Tuesday, January 21, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Norman Stewart, 1100 Rockland Avenue. All interested in this meeting are cordially invited to attend.

SURVEY GIVES YOUTH'S VIEWS

"Disposition and Personality" First Demand in Marriage Partner

Associated Press
New York, Jan. 20.—The old man-made double standard of morality has been abandoned and "disposition and personality" have become the important basis of marriage to today's youth, as reported in a New York university survey to-day.

The survey was made by Dr. Ray Erwin Baker, professor of sociology. The questions were asked over a period of six years of 624 students, equally divided between sexes. They were asked of 103 fathers and 115 mothers.

For the young people's point of view, Dr. Baker found that economic status was a matter of small concern. Good looks were not considered essential. But the youngsters were "adamant on disposition and personality"—set against marrying a person unattractive in those two respects.

They preferred good morals, but were not emphatic about that. They were not afraid of marrying into an "inferior" family.

On moral standards children and parents were far apart. Parents were also more against marrying into an "inferior" family, and parents rated health of higher importance than did their children.

READING GROUP WILL RESUME

The Y.W.C.A. education committee announce that the Reading Group will enjoy another course of six lectures, commencing Thursday, January 30, at 2:30 o'clock, in the Y.W.C.A. clubrooms. Mrs. E. Tomlin will preside.

The first speaker will be Mrs. Nellie McClung, who will open the course with "The Place of Poetry in Modern Life."

The interest and anticipation of members of the group increase with each succeeding week. Under the leadership of Dr. Henrietta R. Anderson, "Contrast Between British and American Humor," H. L. Smith, "Forms of Verse," Miss Jessie Roberts, "England Speaks," by Sir Philip Gibbs; Miss Dorothea Hay, "Seven Pillars of Wisdom," by T. E. Lawrence; Miss Rena Grant, "Bristian Adventure," by Peter Fleming.

The committee, consisting of Mrs. W. N. Gunning, Mrs. V. L. Denton, Mrs. H. O. English and Miss Nan Eaton, greatly appreciate the generosity of these speakers in preparing the subject and making possible the course.

CHARM TALKS
Among the members of the Y.W.C.A. Senior Business Girls' Club, the Junior Business Girls' Club and the Y-Owena Club, there has arisen a suspicion that charm talks, and also that personal charm is not a mere matter of manners and dress. Three questions have been arousing a great deal of interest, and some earnest debate. The questions are these:

What is charm? Can charm be acquired? Can charm be developed? To settle matters the Senior Business Girls' Club are sponsoring a series of charm talks to which they are inviting all Victoria girls who may be interested in this subject.

And just to be sure that they have the best possible advice on the matter they have solicited the assistance of well qualified speakers on these subjects who have graciously consented to talk things over with the group.

The dates and subjects are arranged as follows:

January 27—"Personal Habits and Outward Appearance as the Expression of Personal Charm," Miss Lois Maxwell.

February 3—"The Art of Conversation," Miss Margaret Clay.

February 10—"The Art of Being a Hostess," Mrs. G. M. Welr.

February 17—"Cultural Appreciations," Mrs. Hazel Hodson.

February 24—"The Art of Being a Friend Among Men and Women," Mrs. D. M. Duncan.

March 3—"A Philosophy of Life for Youth," Dr. H. R. Anderson.

On these Monday evenings the club members will meet at 8 o'clock in the clubrooms and welcome any other girls who wish to join.

No charge is made for this course.

COURAGEOUS LIVING

WEDDINGS

PERRY-WARD
A wedding of interest to many friends in Victoria and Saanich took place at the Garden City United Church, Carey Road, on Saturday evening, when Rev. William Allan united in marriage Kathleen Emily, fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ward, North Douglas Street, and Arthur Walter Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Perry, Luxton Street, Victoria.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in a gown of powder blue tulle. A small jacket to match was worn with the frock, and she was designed with large full sleeves shirred at the shoulders and finished with silver buttons and a sash. A Juliet cap of silver and blue net adorned her head, and she carried an arm bouquet of large white chrysanthemums.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Dorothy Ward, who chose a coral silk crepe gown with a silver beaded collar and a brilliant buckle. She wore white accessories, and carried an arm bouquet of pale yellow chrysanthemums. The groom was supported by his brother, Alfred Perry.

The church was decorated by the members of the Women's Auxiliary of the church, and the wedding party stood under a bower of flowers, fern and Oregon grape. Mr. D. Panthorpe presided at the piano and rendered the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" as the bride entered the church. During the signing of the register Mrs. W. P. Brown sang "I Love You Truly." Messrs. Ernest Ward and Jack Perry acted as ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The young couple were assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Ward, in a nigger brown crepe dress trimmed with an ermine collar, and Mrs. Perry, who wore a jade green dress with matching accessories. Both wore corsage bouquets of pale pink and white carnations.

A two-tier wedding cake, a gift of the bride's brother, E. J. Ward, centred the bride's table flanked with tall white paper in silver sconces. A buffet supper was served from a table dressed with a handsome point lace cloth, the gift of a pioneer friend of the family.

For going away the bride wore a navy tweed coat trimmed with squirrel and a navy blue felt hat. After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Perry will make their home in Victoria.

Tickets for the affair should be spoken for early from the members of the committee or auxiliary to avoid disappointment.

GRAFT EAR ON TO BOY'S HEAD

Sixty-five-year-old Grandmother Makes Sacrifice

London, Jan. 20.—A sixty-five-year-old woman has given an ear to her grandson.

The boy, Robert Price of Green-smead, Dorset, Stafford, is seven, and since birth a deformed left ear had caused anxiety to his parents.

When Sir Harold Gillies became honorary consulting plastic surgeon to the North Staffordshire Infirmary it was suggested that the boy's deformity could be removed if someone would sacrifice an ear.

His grandmother, Mrs. Emily Todd, at once volunteered, and an operation, in which the ear was transferred, was performed by Sir Harold at the infirmary.

"The grandmother's hearing is not affected, but it has not been possible to make the child hear as he has no ear drum on the left side."

Mrs. Todd, who has arranged her hair so that the effects of the operation are not apparent, said to me: "I would give both ears for the boy—in fact, I would sacrifice my life, I am so attached to him—and at my age the loss of an ear does not matter so much."

She added that as she was given only a local anaesthetic she was able to hear Sir Harold describing his work to nearly fifty surgeons who watched the operation.

"I was given courage to go on with the sacrifice," she said, "when I heard some of them say that when the ear was healed it would be almost impossible to detect that the ear was not the boy's own."

STRAWBERRY VALE

A pleasant evening was spent on Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Foster, Wellington Road, when a surprise party was held in honor of Mrs. T. Todd, president of the Saanich Welfare Association. The rooms were artistically decorated in a pink and cream color scheme and a cake, which centred the refreshment table, was presented by Mrs. P. Osborne to Mrs. Todd on behalf of the members.

Musical numbers, including a vocal solo by Mrs. Osborne, accompanied at the piano by Miss Gertrude Foster, and piano directed by Miss E. Jenkins, were enjoyed. Music for the games was supplied by Maurice Foster at the piano. Refreshments were served by Miss Gertrude Foster, assisted by the Misses Lillian Rowlands and Joan Statham.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Trueman, Mr. and Mrs. Hollins, Mr. and Mrs. Steele, Mesdames T. Todd, Dealey, P. Osborne, Newbury, Hawkes, Ramsey and the Misses K. Oldfield, B. Jenkins, E. Trueman and E. Steele.

Rev. F. W. Weaver, priest in charge of the daughter church of St. Albans, was present and gave a fine message on the work being so successfully accomplished in that part of the parish.

The rector, in review of the parish activities, thanked all for their loyal and faithful service. He spoke also on the loss the church would sustain on the transfer of George Norris to Vancouver. Mr. Norris had been a member of St. Barnabas Church since his early boyhood and had been a source of strength to the rector and the parish. He would be greatly missed.

Similar expressions were voiced by Mr. Bannerman and Mrs. Heatherbell, two of the oldest members of the congregation. The people's warden called the attention of those present to the bad condition of the organ and stated that $150 would have to be found in the near future to put the instrument in a playable condition.

Hamilton, as was also a talk on temperance education. A petition was read protesting the sale of light wines and beer in restaurants, and was duly signed by all present. Delegates appointed to attend the Presbyterial annual meetings in February were Mrs. A. Carnochan and Mrs. D. Hamilton. One new member was welcomed. A vote of thanks was tendered to the hostess, Mrs. Noble, who served refreshments at the conclusion of the meeting. Arrangements were made to meet at St. Barnabas Church in the club room on Thursday. The statement of accounts was read and adopted showing a balance in hand at the end of the year of $149.25.

Satisfactory progress was shown in all branches of work by the various reports and every one was enthusiastic over the manner in which various difficulties of the year had been overcome.

Sustained applause greeted the announcement that Father N. E. Smith had been appointed rural dean, an honor not only on the rector but on the parish.

Father Smith, in a brief reply, stated how greatly touched he was by the honor but more particularly in the kind and generous terms of the clergy at his nomination.

The rector's warden, A. M. Goswell, retired after four years of splendid service and C. Barker was appointed in his stead. I. Read was re-elected people's warden by acclamation and a committee of ten was elected.

The GOLDEN FEATHER

By Robert Bruce

Larry had gone on from there to remark that it looked very much as if Wingo Lewis, the gangster who had passed himself off on the innocent Bobby as an ordinary business man, had bought such a car from Mark Hopkins, Bobby's employer; and he had urged Bobby to watch closely for any corroborative evidence that might be available, and to let the Division of Investigation men know about it at once if he found it.

Bobby, therefore, had gone sleuthing—and he believed, had found something.

After learning that Hopkins and MacFarlane, superintendent of the repair shop in Hopkins' auto sales agency, had made a mysterious trip together, Bobby had gone on the trail and discovered a queer, secret factory, hidden off in the wastes of the southwest fringe of Dover, and nowadays, in a slowly rising estate, he was keeping eyes and ears open in an effort to learn more about it.

For some days his efforts were fruitless. Then it occurred to him that he needed more information on an occasional bit of information from Hopkins' private office; and to further this end he began to be attentive to Mary Ann Nichols, one of the three stenographers on the agency's payroll.

Mary Ann was short, dark, and slightly chubby, and she was immensely flattered by Bobby's unexpected attentions; so that after a very short time they had reached a stage in which the artless young woman would blurt innocently of her employer's secrets to the attractive young salesman, just as if he had been a friend of many years standing.

That while with all of this was the only thing she babbled freely she did not seem to know anything that would help Bobby.

One evening, however, they went to an amusement park on the shore of a little lake in one of the eastern suburbs; and there, after they had eaten and danced, they sat on a bench by the water, idly watching people who swam in the lake beneath long strings of electric light bulbs.

Mary Ann nudged confidentially close to him; and Bobby more to head off what looked like an incoherent peevish party than in any sense of getting needed information, casually turned the conversation to the unromantic topic of the daily routine at the sales agency.

Mary Ann, it developed, had had what she termed a hectic day.

First of all, one of the other stenographers, a lanky young woman named Dorothea, had developed a headache and had been obliged to go home, thus overburdening the two remaining girls. Then Mr. Hopkins had turned grouchy because his efforts to sell a dozen sedans to the city government for use as police cars had been beaten by a rival, who had had the forethought to contribute more heavily to the mayor's campaign fund than Mr. Hopkins had contributed. And,

St. Barnabas Church Vestry

Satisfactory Progress Reported in All Branches of Church

There was a large attendance of parishioners at the annual meeting of St. Barnabas Church in the club room on Thursday. The statement of accounts was read and adopted showing a balance in hand at the end of the year of $149.25.

CENTENARIAN DIES

Flush Kidneys
of poisons and stop getting up at night

Having taken "A-sure" in thousands of cases at the Invalid Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. I have distributed to the Drug Trade the latest and perhaps the most important of the Dr. Pierce's home remedies, "A-sure," which I now recommend for the relief of minor kidney irregularities. Those who have irregularity of urination, disturbed sleep, depression, aches, pains, drowsiness, distention, will find this stimulant diuretic beneficial in flushing the kidneys, clearing the blood, and relieving irritation. Taking a cup of hot water and Dr. Pierce's "A-sure" after every meal should bring remarkably quick improvement. Buy of your neighborhood druggist now.

REDUCE PRIVILEGES
It has a greater effectiveness if it is related to the act itself. The child who runs out of the yard when forbidden to go—and is old enough to remember orders—should immediately be brought and taken in the house. If he eats sand, he loses the fun of playing in the sandpile.

Thus, to deprive a child immediately of some of the privileges he is enjoying, will show him more clearly than words that he has to play the game the proper way to earn his privileges.

SOLITUDE IS PUNISHMENT
When the child indulges in a temper tantrum; when he is deliberately annoying, stubborn or whiny; when he acts pigishly selfish about his playthings, or mistreats his companions; the natural penalty he should suffer is a deprivation of companionship.

If he is sent to his room, or the parent walks out on him, he finds in both instances that all he has got for his actions is solitude. That is punishment enough for the scoldable child who likes his parents, brothers, sisters and playmates.

Radical Socialist Elected in France

Canadian Press
Paris, Jan. 20.—Dr. Robert Vezon, Radical Socialist, was elected to the Chamber of Deputies for Mont de Marsan.

He succeeded the late Leon Bouysson, a member of the same party. The strength of the Radical Socialists, most powerful group in the chamber, is therefore unchanged.

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHEIN

About the end of the nineteenth century, a Dutch doctor noticed that people who ate golden-brown bread paralyzed and suffered from inflammation of the nerves. At the same time, those who ate the white bread

did not develop these symptoms.

From this discovery came the first knowledge of vitamins and facts about the original vitamin, now termed B-1. The form of neu-ritis and paralysis called beriberi, which results from lack of vitamin B-1, was the first to come to the attention of the medical profession.

Beriberi, or polyneuritis, does not turn up frequently in the United States, but cases do occur, for instance among alcoholics, who while they are drinking heavily, fail to take of food.

Neuritis will occur also in persons with excessive action of the thyroid, because in their cases the vitamin

B-1 seems to be damaged or destroyed.

In the United States consumption of sugar has risen from fifteen pounds a year a person in 1850 to more than 100 pounds a year a person now. Where much sophisticated food is eaten, and particularly much sugar, there is a lower consumption of vitamin B-1.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

THINGS ARE HAPPENING in the badminton world with such speed and confusion these days that shuttle critics already are forecasting the Canadian championships at Winnipeg in March will provide the biggest round of upsets in the tournament's history. And badminton is not a game noted for its upsets.

It has become apparent to those who should know that young Rod Phelan, Toronto, 1935 men's singles champion, is no slouch in any way to repeat his triumph, or that left-handed Margaret Taylor, Kelowna, will walk away for a second straight time with the women's crown. Just a few months ago these youngsters seemed assured of moderately long reigns.

Phelan's conqueror may be any one of half a dozen stars. Jack Storey, clubmate of the red-headed champion, showed that Phelan was vulnerable when he triumphed at the Armory in the flush of the Toronto and district championships early this month. Storey won this event last year, too, robbing Phelan of a grand slam in major tournaments.

But in the big show there are other shoo-ins who may spring a surprise. Among these is the greatest all-around badminton player since Jack Purcell deserted amateur ranks—Douglas Grant. The Halifax boy, ill last winter and unable to defend the Canadian singles title he won in 1933 and 1934, is on the comeback trail. He lives in Winnipeg now and showed his great game at close to its best in winning the Winnipeg and district title. He will be strongly favored to add to this the Manitoba event and then he will attempt to knock Phelan off the national pedestal. At his best, Grant should accomplish this without loss of too many points. Victorians will get an opportunity to watch Grant in action when he plays at the Armories in the Vancouver Island championships this month. Margaret Taylor will also be entered in the tournament.

Ottawa's Rev. Mitchell and giant Dick Birch, Vancouver, are other top-notchers gunning for Phelan's crown. Semi-finalist in 1934 and again last year, Birch figures to be about ready to crash through. Only Grant and Phelan have taken the measure of the big British Columbian in the last two seasons.

The eighteen-year-old Miss Taylor, whose southpaw shots completely baffled the opposition last year, must win again to prove to many observers that she is a greater player than Mrs. W. R. Walton, Toronto, or Mrs. Anna Kier Patrick, Vancouver. Mrs. Walton seems to have the women's field under her thumb in the east, just as she did last winter when only Miss Taylor defeated her in the Canadian final. The Robertson sisters of Ottawa, Ruth and Margaret, remain her most dangerous opponents.

Badminton experts believe the men's doubles will provide the real fireworks at Winnipeg. They name three "hot" combinations in the east alone and anticipate something equally good coming out of British Columbia. Perhaps, they say, Birch and the veteran Jack Underhill will team up for a crack at the big title.

The east's big three are Jack Sibbald and Len Coles, Woodstock, Ont., Canadian champions; Gerry Purcell and Murray Snyder, Kitchener, 1935 Ontario champions, and Jack Nash and Colin Brown, London, Ont. Nash, noted amateur golfer, and Brown are being touted as the next titleholders.

In minor engagements this season, they have beaten both the Woodstock and Kitchener pairs. In an exhibition game they downed Gerry and Jack Purcell, and when you stand on the other side of the net from Jack and win at all, then you're going some. Toronto's champions, Phelan and V. P. Percival, are not being overlooked, either.

Conacher's Fine Solo Goal Gives First-named Win

DETROIT BLANKS TORONTO 4 TO 0

Maroons 2, Americans 1.
Chicago 2, Boston 1.
Detroit 4, Toronto 0.
Toronto 3, Boston 2.
Canadians 3, Rangers 1.

Most hockey managers yell "go out there and get me a goal" when their team needs one, but Lionel Conacher has a different method. He steps out on the ice and shows his players how to win the game. Making his debut as player-manager of Montreal Maroons yesterday evening at New York, the "Big Train" won from Americans 2 to 1 in the third period with a brilliant solo goal.

If he can keep that up he is sure to be retained to guide the Stanley Cup champions until Tommy Gorman has recovered. Rumor has it Gorman will not be well enough to pilot Maroons again this season.

The win from Americans shot Maroons into the National League's Canadian division leadership again after Toronto Maple Leafs had held the spot for twenty-four hours by beating Boston Bruins 5 to 3 at Toronto Saturday night. Winnipeg's Charles Conacher and Joe Primeau, they couldn't keep up the pace and Detroit beat them 4 to 0 yesterday evening.

BACK IN CELLAR
The Maroon victory also shot Americans into the Canadian division cellar again as Canadiens defeated New York Rangers 3 to 1 in Montreal Saturday night. Boston lost both their week-end games, bowing 2 to 1 to Chicago yesterday evening after taking a defeat from Leafs Saturday.

Maroons were out in front for most of the game at Madison Square Garden. Jimmy Ward shot them into the lead and a half later he sped through the whole American team alone, drew Roy Worters to one side of the net and flipped the winning tally past him.

Another veteran, Frank Clancy, Toronto Leafs, played his best game of the season and inspired the other Leafs to an effort that left Bruins far behind. Art Jackson, Pep Kelly and Andy Blair scored in their second period before Boston got their first goal through Cooney Weiland and Clancy and Bill Hill got markers in the third. Babe Siebert got the second Boston counter on a penalty shot in that period.

Tired after their good showing against Bruins, Leafs were no match for the fresh Wings at Detroit. The Wings scored one goal in the first period, added two in the second and another in the third while shutting Leafs out. Johnny Sorell, Syd Howe, Pete Kelly and Ducky McDonald were their successful marksmen.

Boston had the score tied for fourteen minutes at Chicago, but Louis Trudel came through with a goal six minutes before the end of the third that gave Hawks the game and put them three points up on Bruins.

Hawks enjoyed a one-goal margin from late in the first period when Johnny Gottselig scored the first goal of the game until Weiland evened things up a minute and a half after the third started.

Paul Haynes and Leroy Goldsworth were the scoring big shots in the Canadian win from Rangers. Both got a goal and an assist and Goldsworth tied with Aurel Joliat, his teammate, as the league's leading goal scorer. Each has twelve.

Haynes scored in the third minute of the game and Rangers were unable to even it up until thirteen minutes of the third period had been played when Frank Boucher tallied on a play with Butch Keeling and Glen Bryson. Johnny Gagnon put Canadiens ahead again four minutes later and Goldsworth got their third goal two minutes after that.

BOSTON—TORONTO
First period—No scoring. Penalties: Day (major), Beattie (major), Horner, Runge, Kelly, Jenkins and Jackson.
Second period—1, Toronto, A. Jackson (Kelly), 1:52; 2, Toronto, Kelly (Day), 10:25; 3, Toronto, Day (Day), 15:38.

Jackie Markle Joins Toronto

Toronto, Jan. 20.—Just about the time Jack Markle was figuring he parted his hair on the wrong side and International League net-works were ready to throw up jittery hands in despair, the highest-scoring player in minor league hockey joined Toronto Maple Leafs to-day.

Markle, King-pin of the Syracuse stars, the "hottest" forward in the International circuit, was ordered yesterday to report to the Leafs for his first tryout in the National League. He will make his debut here to-morrow night against Montreal Canadiens.

Eight Entered In Tournament

More Entries Expected For City Chess Competition on January 24

Eight entries have so far been booked for the annual Victoria Chess tournament which will be held Friday evening, January 24, in the clubrooms of the City Chess Club, 1118 Langley Street. Others who contemplate entering the contest are requested to leave their entries with the secretary as soon as possible.

The following rules will govern the tourney. They are subject to revision by the committee at any time:

The championship will be a straight knockout, with the loser of the first round entering the B tournament.

At least two games for promotion to next round.

All games will commence at 8 o'clock in the evening. Any player not in position by 8:30 o'clock will lose by default.

All unfinished games will be judged at 11 o'clock.

At least one game shall be played each week.

All the matches will be under the supervision of an umpire. Any disputes will be settled by a committee consisting of T. H. Piper, A. G. Moody and D. W. Mills. In regard to disputes this committee's decision will be final.

Metropolitans And Lake Hill Tie 3 to 3

Despite a heavy rainstorm, Lake Hill and Metropolitans turned out to contest the only game in the Sunday School Soccer League at Central Park on Saturday morning. Of the four previous meetings of these teams three have ended in ties, while Lake Hill have a win to their credit.

As in the previous game, Lake Hill again took the lead, with an early goal and led by 2 to 1 at half time. By constructive attack Lake Hill just held the upper hand, but Metropolitans fought back strongly to bring the final score to three goals each.

Dunn showed a good understanding of wing play, and scored a nice goal for the suburban boys, while Kitching garnered the other two goals. Elford, Hope and Malcolm registered for the Metropolitans.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

A whole fountain full of punch—approximately 2,300 gallons of it—was served by Edward Russell, English captain-general and commander-in-chief of the British forces in the Mediterranean, at a party at his home in Cadix. The punch was served by a young servant boy who paddled around in a small boat in the sea of punch, lading out drinks to the guests.

The recipe for this remarkable bowl of punch has been preserved. In it went four hogsheads of brandy, twice that amount of water, a little over 500 gallons of dry mountain Malaga wine, 25,000 lemons, 1,300 pounds of sugar and five pounds of grated nutmeg.

President Harrison, whose term of office was cut short by death, never saw his wife after his inauguration. She was ill when he took office in March 4, 1841, and had remained at her Ohio home, expecting to join her husband later. Before she started for Washington, however, came word of his death.

Healthiest of all the West Indian Islands, and more than 95 per cent of its acreage under cultivation, Barbados Island is one of the world's most thickly populated colonies. The land is largely given over to sugar cane cultivation, a purpose to which it is ideally suited. The island is about 160 miles in area. Highest point on it is 1,100 feet, sometimes called a mountain, but really a terrace of coral limestone. Although the island has no rivers or lakes, abundant water is supplied by rain and underground streams.

The DeMolays clicked in great fashion as the second half got under way and despite the hectic efforts of the dominos finally succeeded in tying, the score at 35 to 35, with Williamson and Hughes getting majority of the points for the Seattle outfit.

The lead sea-sawed back and forth, with the clubs even at 38-all. Peden gave the Dominos the lead with a free shot and then left the floor open for the visitors. The Dominos led 31 to 22 at half-time.

DEMOLAY WIN BY ONE POINT

Score Thrilling 49 to 48 Victory Over Dominos; Tillamooks Victors

Playing before one of the largest crowds of the season, the Seattle DeMolay cage stars handed the Victoria Dominos, Canadian champions, their first setback of the season at the High School gym on Saturday evening by one point, 49 to 48. It was a sweet victory for the lodgements, and avenged their single point defeat here several weeks ago.

Roy Williams, centre star of the visitors, got the winning points with seconds to go when he cantered a long shot from centre. The Dominos led 31 to 22 at half-time.

Following the wind to advantage to work into the Garrison ground on kicks and forward rushes. Ten minutes from the breather, Campbell Forbes dribbled the ball down to the Garrison five-yard line and gained a scrum. Harry Ford crashed through the loose when the scrum broke to touch down for the first try. The kick failed.

The wind slackened toward the middle of the second half and the Garrison still playing a dry field game with their neat ball handling in the backfield, rallied for the tying score. Ken Buxton, wing three for Army, gathered in the ball from Martin and scored forty-five yards to bring the Garrison offensive within five yards of the Scottish goal line. In the subsequent scrum Hatch forged over with the ball at his feet. Featherstone's kick was wide.

Doug Peden Star as Fifth Brigade Rugger Wins; Wanderers Gain Intermediate Victories Over College and Scottish

That certain something that has been lacking from the Fifth Brigade's senior rugby punch made its return on Saturday as just short of 200 pounds of Doug Peden gave the team a slippery 9 to 3 victory over the Navy at the Naval Recreation Grounds. At Oak Bay Park, where children could have sailed their boats, Garrison players clung to their slender chance of winning the second half by holding the Canadian Scottish to a 3 to 3 draw.

Peden scored an unconverted try and kicked a penalty goal as his team slithered over the sailors in a game which revealed very surprising flashes of backfield play in spite of the greasy ball and slippery pitch.

The Navy broke into the lead early in the game when Bill Smith opened up on a run from his own twenty-five and passed to Cockerill near the Gunners' line. Cockerill went over for the sailors' lone try, which was unconverted.

Seven minutes later the artillery-men swung down and gained a scrum near the corner. Peden, secured and went over to even the count.

Late in the half the Gunners missed a good chance to score on a free kick but maintained pressure until the interval.

The sailors forced down following the interval and missed a kick for the goal when the Gunners were checked for interference. The militiamen drove back and controlled most of the play for the remainder of the game, marked for the Navy by dogged defensive rallies.

Fleming made good ground on a broken field run well on in the half and the Gunners finally gained a kick almost in front of the Navy uprisings. Peden placed the ball and converted to put his team in the lead.

The sustained Gunners' drive, marked by flashes of good backfield play, finally counted again with Ken Fleming squirming through on a solo attack to circle behind the Navy line and put the ball down near the posts.

The kick failed.
In spite of continued pressure the Fifth were unable to add to the score. Benny MacMillan refereed, and the teams lined up as follows: Navy—Booth, Arnot, Sweet, Stubbs, Hibbert, Smith, Freeman, Nelson, Corbin, Cockerill, Dailin, McRae, Hall, Paul and Sinclair.

Fifth Brigade—McInnes, Simpson, Fleming, Rowe, Copeland, Halkett, Stipe, Mair, deBlacquer, Englehorn, Dowell, Eastham, Johnson, Peden and Gaunt.

PLAY TO DRAW
Hatch's try late in the second half saved the Garrison from defeat at the hands of a dogged Scottish team at Oak Bay Park.

The Army, using a strong crossfield wind to advantage, dominated most of the first half and developed several smart backfield movements in spite of the unfavorable ground conditions.

Colgate, playing a dependable game as fullback for the highlanders, cleared nicely as the soldiers thrust into his territory on good attacks.

Martin, Garrison half, was feeding his backs well and opening up play as much as possible, but neither his teammates nor the Scottish could score in the first half.

Following the wind to advantage to work into the Garrison ground on kicks and forward rushes. Ten minutes from the breather, Campbell Forbes dribbled the ball down to the Garrison five-yard line and gained a scrum. Harry Ford crashed through the loose when the scrum broke to touch down for the first try. The kick failed.

The wind slackened toward the middle of the second half and the Garrison still playing a dry field game with their neat ball handling in the backfield, rallied for the tying score. ## VICTORIA UNITED IN SMART VICTORY

DEADLOCK SCORE
At the eleven-minute mark the Royals were back on even terms.

Harvey, smooth-working centre-half for the visitors, carried the ball well into Victoria territory and then slipped in a long pass to Coulter, who lifted the ball over De Costa's head into the net when the local goalie rushed out in an effort to block. It was a pretty executed score. Coulter got another opening but his wicked shot was deflected by Barnes for a corner.

At the other end Strongy had to move fast to gather in a long shot by Williams. The New Westminster goalie continued his great exhibition of net-minding by blocking two wicked shots from Morgan and Bell. Stewart had a perfect set-up for a goal when Bell laid the ball to his feet out and his shot was wide by yards.

Morgan put Victoria in the lead for the second time at the forty-minute mark. Stewart best Lusk and carried the ball to the New Westminster line from where he hooked in a pass to Morgan and the inside left never tore the net down with his drive to the top corner. Half-time found Victoria still holding the goal lead.

SECOND HALF
The second half was all in favor of Victoria although the Royals were dangerous on their quick breakaways led by Turner and Coulter. On two plays from the left wing Payne forced Strongy to save once while his second shot slipped across the goal mouth just out of reach of Stewart and Bell. Stewart had a fine chance on a pass from Bell but his shot was wide. DeCosta scooped up a low shot from Gray and cleared well with Coulter in on top of him.

The fans got some real excitement when about six players piled up in the Victoria goalmouth during a gang attack and DeCosta finally came out of the heap with the ball and kicked to the sideline.

Victoria's third counter was netted by Stewart on a play that saw the ball travel from Payne to Watt to Stewart. Just before time the United made it 4 to 1 on a penalty shot. Bell broke in the clear and with only the goalie in front of him was hooked from behind by Fidler. Gibson's spot shot was partially blocked by Strongy but the slippery ball got away from him and dropped over the line.

Outstanding feature of the game was the exhibition of goal tending by Strongy in the first half. It was the finest bit of net minding seen here this season and the big, lanky custodian's work drew much applause from the fans.

DAVE SWAN REFEREE
The teams followed:

Victoria United—De Costa, Esler, Gibbons, Williams, Barnes, Boyd, Bell, Stewart, Watt, Morgan and Payne.

New Westminster—Strong, Fidler, Lusk, McPherson, Harvey, Gemmell, Henrichson, B. Gray, Coulter, Turner and Groszaky, Wheeler, T. Gray and Manner.

Out Pops His Teeth; Police
Summoned

At 12:55 o'clock yesterday morning city police received a telephone call from a resident near Fifth and Quadra Streets that two drunks were crawling around on their hands and knees at the intersection.

The person who gave the message feared they might be hit by a passing car, and urgently requested police assistance. The patrol was dispatched immediately.

HANNAY TAKES HIS OWN CASE

Before B.C. Appeal Court

George Hannay, who was sentenced with W. Jones at the December Assizes at Nanaimo to seven years imprisonment on a charge of breaking and entering into a Parkville store and stealing tobacco and groceries to the value of $14.50, acted as his own lawyer in the B.C. Court of Appeal this morning.

Hannay and Jones are appealing against the sentence.

Arthur Leighton is appearing for the crown to resist the appeal.

The Crown is also appealing against the acquittal of Hannay at the Nanaimo Assizes on a charge of being in possession of lubricating oil and grease stolen from the Union Oil Company of Nanaimo. Hannay acted as lawyer for himself and his fellow prisoner when the first mentioned case was called this morning.

"I am sorry to have to appear myself. It is on account of financial difficulties," he told the court.

He set forth his reasons for appealing as based on the address of Crown counsel to the jury, instructions to the jury and postponement of the assizes from time to time, which, he said, prevented him from having defence witnesses on hand that he would otherwise have been able to call.

He produced an affidavit which he and Jones had signed charging that Mr. Leighton Crown counsel had been unfair in his references to him as a criminal and to the prospect of other stores being broken into.

He was proceeding to read the affidavit when the point was raised that Crown counsel had not previously seen it.

The hearing was adjourned until Wednesday for Crown counsel to see the affidavit and to present other affidavits from people present at the Assize Court to meet the accusations.

Hannay claimed that he could produce other affidavits besides those sworn to by himself and Jones from Nanaimo people.

He was informed that he could not at this stage of the case secure more affidavits.

The other appeal in which Hannay figured and acted as his own lawyer was in an appeal by the crown against his acquittal at the Nanaimo Assizes on charge of being in possession of keys, lubricating grease and gasoline, missing from the Union Oil Company's warehouse at Nanaimo.

Crown counsel claimed the trial judge, Mr. Justice Robertson, erred in rejecting evidence of several witnesses, which counsel claimed would have shown articles corresponding to those stolen where found on premises occupied by Hannay.

CASE IS PROCEEDING

Argument opened Friday in the case of D. L. Swanney, who is appealing against a judgment of Judge Fisher in the Vancouver County Court of $350.40 special damages and $800 general damages in favor of a young girl, Betty Adele Redding, for injuries she sustained when she was struck down by defendant's automobile at an intersection.

The defence claims the child by her actions was responsible for the accident.

The judge ruled that the driver had an opportunity of observing the child at an intersection and should have anticipated what a child would do under the circumstances.

Alfred Bull, K.C., appears for the appellant and R. L. Maitland, K.C., for respondent.

A new trial was ordered Friday in the case of Wong Yip Lun and Lee Lun, Vancouver Chinese, who were acquitted by Judge A. M. Harper in the County Court on a charge of possessing opium.

R. L. Maitland, K.C., for the crown, appealed against the acquittal.

Walter S. Owen appeared for the Chinese.

Thinks Victoria
More Progressive

J. A. Peters, considers This City More Modern Than Vancouver; Island Roads Good

J. A. Peters of Vancouver, who was at the Dominion Hotel this morning, thinks that Victoria is a more progressive town than Vancouver, and that the roads on the island are good.

Mr. Peters is the man who drives the unusual car which advertises Life-saver. He covers Vancouver and the whole of the Island, and drives an average of 10,000 miles a year.

On the subject of this city being more progressive than Vancouver, Mr. Peters said that the facilities for the visitor were better here, especially the Y.M.C.A., the hotels and the places of entertainment. He also thought the business men and the ordinary people of the city were more cordial to the visitor.

Mr. Peters said the Island Highway was "half as bad as some people tried to make out. Especially north of Nanaimo, the roadway was excellent. The work being done on the Port Alberni road was rapidly putting it in first-class shape.

"If you want to see really bad roads," he said, "try the interior of B.C."

Some time ago the car was repainted, and one side is now red and the other blue. The result is that everyone asks him "Who drives the other car?"

Mr. Peters has an ambition. It is to come to Victoria to make his home. At present he resides in Vancouver.

EXTENSION ON OPTION ASKED

Moving Picture Outfit Seeks
Up Lease

In a communication received at the City Hall to-day, W. T. Strath, solicitor for Isadore "Bud" Barsky and George Schneiderman, Hollywood picture men who sought a lease on the worsted mills in James Bay to produce films locally, has requested an extension of one month on his clients' option.

According to original plans, Mr. Barsky and Mr. Schneiderman were allowed until January 31 to take over the rental of the mill building from the city. The new application seeks to extend the time until February 29.

Mr. Barsky and Mr. Schneiderman, during their visit to the city to negotiate with the council on the matter, agreed to post a bond of $5,500 as a symbol of good faith before any alterations were made to the worsted mill site. That money has not yet been posted and the city will undertake no work, other than that necessary to protect its investment, until the sum is forthcoming.

In his application for an extension of the option, Mr. Strath said his principals and himself had been busy trying to secure a ruling from the federal government on customs charges which would be levied against the equipment the Hollywood men proposed to bring to Victoria. No definite result has been secured and the picture interests, represented by Mr. Strath, are asking further time in which to carry on negotiations.

King George V and Queen Mary

His Most Excellent Majesty, George the Fifth, "by the Grace of God, of Great Britain, Ireland and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India," had occupied the throne since May 6, 1910, when he succeeded his father, the late Edward the Seventh.

His Majesty was proclaimed King on May 9, 1910, and was crowned with his Consort Queen Mary, in Westminster Abbey, on June 22, 1911. He was proclaimed Emperor and assumed the Crown of India at the great Durbar at Delhi on December 12, 1911.

King George was a monarch of serious habits and statesmanlike interests, and an unremitting student of political and military affairs. As a royal traveler His Majesty was unexcelled, and the intimacy he acquired with the Greater Britain beyond the seas rendered him a monarch of Empire with an unparalleled knowledge of his many peoples and wide dominions. Indeed, the two great enthusiasms of his Majesty's life were his love for the Empire and his love for the navy. He entered the naval service as a midshipman, and passed through every grade. In 1910 he became an Admiral of the Fleet; the same year he became a Field Marshal of the British Army.

In private life, the King was an English gentleman with essentially British tastes. He was a lover of the outdoors life, a splendid all-round sportsman. In shooting, especially, he took a keen enjoyment, and was regarded by the highest authorities as the finest shot in the United Kingdom.

His best epithet, to his subjects, would be that he was a really fine human man, husband and father, not perhaps brilliant, but one who would have preferred to have a quiet life of a squire rather than a king. Finding himself a king, however, he put his whole soul and strength into doing the work of a king, conscientiously and without regard to personal cost or exertion.

KING AND FAMILY

His Majesty King George V was born at Marlborough House, London, on June 3, 1865, and, after a career in the Royal Navy, which took him into every part of the British Empire, came to the throne on the death of King Edward VII on May 6, 1910.

It was on July 6, 1893, that King George, then the Duke of York, married his second cousin, Her Serene Highness the Princess Mary of Teck ("May"), daughter of Her Royal Highness May Adelaide, the late Duchess of Teck and Princess of Wales, who was the daughter of H.R.H. Adolphus, Duke of Cambridge, seventh son of King George III of Great Britain.

Six children were born to their Majesties, namely:

1.—Edward Albert (Prince of Wales, Duke of Cornwall, Duke of Rothesay), who now bears the title of King Edward VIII, born June 23, 1894.

2.—Prince Albert Frederick, Duke of York, born December 14, 1895.

3.—Princess Victoria Alexandra Alice Mary, born April 25, 1897; married Viscount Lascelles, K.C.B., D.S.O., son of the 5th Earl of Harewood, February 28, 1922.

4.—Prince Henry William, born March 31, 1900.

5.—Princess George Edward, born December 20, 1902.

6.—Prince John Charles, born July 12, 1905; died January 18, 1919.

A GREAT INHERITANCE

As His Majesty said in one of his addresses, the inheritance had come to him from "a great and ancient line." Long before William the Norman had won the field of Hastings, his ancestors had ruled in England and Scotland and Ireland. The blood of that line permeated the nation. Generation after generation it had mingled with the blood of other nations until king and people had become virtually one. At a late day in the life of that Royal House, though, to-day it is a long way behind us, the "backward and abysmal time"—that is, towards the close of the Tudor period—British seamen began to make their influence felt in many seas and on many shores. Before the sixteenth century closed, they had set about raising the fabric of the British Empire. By the end of the century the British Empire was more than a mere collection of those brave navigators, explorers and warriors did not dream of such an Empire as that to which King George V has inherited. It seemed almost to be the figures of its area and population. To speak of an area of about 14,000,000 square miles, and of a population of about 450,000,000 looks like mere exaggeration. Yet it is the simple truth. And never did a sovereign occupy the throne of Great Britain or indeed of any realm, who knew the lands and people under his sway as King George V by study and travel had learned to know his.

In the study of the Empire's history he had the advantage of the best tutors and the best methods. By travel, under learned guidance, he gained a personal acquaintance with every noteworthy spot in his great Empire, while his judgment and power of expression were exercised and developed by making notes and writing letters concerning what he saw.

A HAPPY CHILDHOOD

Like his father, King George came into the world within a score of days of his father's death. He was born at Marlborough House on June 3, 1865, a year and a half after the birth of his elder brother, the late Duke of Clarence. The childhood of the young Prince was passed happily enough between Sandringham, Osborne, and Balmoral, in Devonshire, where he was a great favorite with both his royal grandmothers, Queen Victoria and Queen Louise of Denmark. It was from the first a much freer existence than his father had led.

The baby Prince found in the Royal nursery an elder brother whose eighteen months' seniority must have seemed a vast difference. When the young prince reached an age that could receive impressions. The boys were playful, sportive and close friends. Their dispositions differed, but in a way that made them the complement of each other. Prince George liked to do things that struck him as interesting either in real life or in his reading. Prince George talked little—his sisters called him George, the silent—but his boys were full of fun and high spirits, ready for anything in the nature of a joke, but never ill-natured or beyond the bounds of courtesy. Queen Alexandra paid great attention to their training in good manners and consideration for others. The nursery at Marlborough House was King George and his only brother and three sisters were children showed even more than the usual difference of temperament. The boys constituted themselves the protectors of the baby Princesses but teased them occasionally, as is the way of brothers. Both were of a very affectionate disposition, and both were impulsive, quick and lively. Prince George was early attracted by all that concerned the sea. One of his first important presents from his father was a set of model ships, and these he presented to his eldest son many years later as the intimate delight of the Prince.

BOYISH SCRAPES

Now and then both boys got into scrapes, of course; it would be natural if they had not. On one occasion when there was a large family gathering at Buckingham Palace, Prince George was guilty of some fault of omission or commission which his mother punished him for by telling him to go under the table. He was so quiet that after a little while the Queen remarked: "How quiet that child is. George, you may come out now." He had been quiet some purpose. He had divested himself of every one of his small garments and appeared from under the table in a state of nature. It is said that his august grandmother, strict disciplinarian though she was, could not help bursting into laughing.

Both princes adored their mother, and when the beautiful Alexandra appeared in public with her two small sons in their sailor suits the people shouted themselves hoarse with enthusiasm, while the gentlefolk who surrounded them by the waving of handkerchiefs and a rush to the railing to see the pretty group as they drove by. Prince George was a very popular child, and true to his father's name, he was a fair, fresh complexion. He had a merry, ringing laugh and an amusing way of jumping down from his high chair when he was displeased. In appearance he was a contrast to his brother, whose face was longer than Prince George's, and whose complexion pale. Even at an early age the younger brother showed more energy and animation, and evinced more decision in his actions. Prince George, however, always his leader in childish games, though it is not impossible that the younger may occasionally have capitalised on his elder's weakness in small nursery scrapes.

GIVEN NAVAL TRAINING

From the first it seems Prince George manifested a love for the sea, which was doubtless innate, but may have been developed by a fortunate circumstance. When he was two years old he was taken to the ship, and he was so much interested in the life of a sea-barrack. Save for the fact that they had a separate sleeping cabin, and that they earned something more in the way of modern languages than the average sailor, the young prince and his two brothers were treated exactly like the sons of officers, country gentlemen, or merchants, whose right to enter the service was based on nothing more than their ability to pass the entrance examination.

At the mess-table they had no place apart. They sat with the rest in the schoolroom, and faced the terrors of examination like the rest. They scaled rigging and swung from the rigging, and they were in healthy emulation with their future subjects. It was the same when, later on, they lived between the decks of the battleship, and submitted to the rigid hierarchy of the ship, said "Sir" to their seniors, and observed the old-world courtesy which ruled between equals on shore. For two years the princes remained on the Britannia, under the command of Captain Fairfax. They passed their time exactly like those of any naval officer, with a little cut, a single chest, and a toilet-table of severe design. They took their meals in the gunroom, and never dreamed of missing a watch in any weather. Amid all the distractions of excursions on shore, balls in colonial capitals, and loyal receptions, the usual course of study went steadily forward. Cruising from colony to colony, they studied the various customs and languages of each new settlement suggested. On the way from South Africa to Australia, for example, the diary notes:

April 16 We are reading Sir Charles Dilke's "Problems of Greater Britain," out of the ship's library.

April 24—Went on reading about the trade and protection of the Cape. Canon Dalton, their tutor, one may add in this connection, was a staunch free trader.

April 26 The Duke of Clarence, who had been visiting the world, and touched not merely British possessions, but foreign coasts as well. On her return Prince George continued his naval career with only the briefest of halts. On his nineteenth birthday, June 3, 1884, Prince George passed as sub-lieutenant on completing a West India cruise, and was appointed to the battleship, obtaining a first-class in seamanship.

YEARS OF HARD STUDY

There followed a period of more serious study at the Naval College, Greenwich. Out of five examinations

he took a "first" in four, and on October 8, 1885, was appointed to lieutenant's rank. An appointment to the Thunderer, the Mediterranean fleet, was conferred on him, and after to the Dreadnought. Three years were next spent still on the same station on board the Thunderer, and then the flag of the North Atlantic and West Indies station, and represented the Queen at the Jamaica Exhibition. It is characteristic of the Prince's character that he should receive the command of the gunboat Thrush (May, 1890).
